Candy Troy Miss Pacifica

By MONTE DAYTON

Candy Troy, an 18-year-old Terra Nova High School senior, was crowned Miss Pacifica Saturday night before a capacity audience of 1,800 persons at the Terra Nova school gym.

A panel of five judges selected Miss Troy out of a field of ten candidates. The contestants were judged on their talent (50 per cent) and their appearance in swim suit and gown (25 per cent each).

Candy, a 5-6 1/2 blonde with hazel eyes, apparently scored high with judges in all three categories. She wowed the overflow crowd with her modern dance interpretation performed to the tune, "Thank Heavens for Little Girls."

Although the Pacifica beauty pageant sponsors do not place any emphasis in their judging on measurements, Miss Troy's vital statistics, for the records, are 36-25-35.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Troy of 1012 Banyan Way, Miss Troy aspires to become a model. Her interests are horseback riding, swimming and sewing.

Tears of happiness streaming down her face after awards chairman Julian Cohn announced her as the winner, Miss Troy sobbed: "Nothing like this has ever happened to me before."

Earlier in the evening Candy had received an award of a $25 savings bond for selling the most tickets to the event, and she had thought that would be the extent of her prizes that night.

Runner-up to Miss Troy was Betty Myers, 18, a graduate of Oceana High who is now em-played at a local drug store; and second runner-up honors went to Lisa Raczkowski, 17, another Terra Nova student.

The title of "Miss Personality" was also claimed by Miss Myers. This selection is made by a vote of the contestants.

The tenth annual Miss Pacifica Pageant was held under the sponsorship of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce. Stanley R. vander Hule served as executive director.

Neither the "Oscar" nor the "Emmy" awards had anything on Saturday night's pageant.

The three-hour extravaganza featured everything from fanfare music on an $19,000 organ to settings that would have done credit to the Miss America pageant.

Each of the ten candidates for Miss Pacifica was greeted with enthusiastic applause during each three appearances for the evening — in bathing suits, in the talent show, and in evening gowns.

Their promenades before the sellout crowd were made all the more dramatic thanks to a spe-

Overtaken Car Traps D.C. Pair

Unrescued For 5 Cold Hours

An early morning drive in the Serramonte section of Daly City by Frazier Deloch, 23, and Robene Brown, 18, early Tuesday suddenly turned into a nightmare, when their car overturned on a dead-end road and the pair lay trapped—cold and hurt—for five hours in an undeveloped area encased by fog.

Suffering from the chills, and possibly the shock of the cold five-hour ordeal, they were pulled from the battered auto by a Serramonte resident, Gerald Davis, who was walking his dog at 6:15 a.m.

Daly City Patrolman Thomas Reese, who investigated the accident at the extreme north end of Callan Boulevard—a dead-end street—said Deloch received possible head injuries and cuts and bruises of his left hand, and Miss Brown with possible head injuries and a broken right elbow.

Unable to attract attention, they were not freed until Davis, of 91 Canterbury Avenue, took his usual morning stroll with his dog. Davis spotted the accident and used a 4x4 piece of wood to pry up the vehicle enough so the trapped couple could get out.

The accident occurred approximately 600 feet north of Morton Drive. Patrolman Reese, who termed the couple "very lucky" to have come out of the mishap with less serious injuries, perhaps their lives, pieced together this story:

Deloch and Miss Brown were driving along Callan Boulevard at about 12:30 a.m. when, at the northern reaches of the dead-end street, Deloch's Austin-Healey Sprite struck gravel.

The view being almost totally obscured by fog, Deloch thought he might be going over an embankment. So he turned sharply. The car overturned.

D.C. Calls Hearing On Ambulances

By DENIS WADE

Should Daly City have more than one ambulance service? Are residents entitled to use any ambulance they choose?

Would unrestricted ambulance service lead to confusion and poor service in the city? Those questions are on the minds of city councilmen, who will have a chance to learn the public's views at a hearing June 13.

Councilmen set that date for a hearing last night, after considering a request from King and American Ambulance Company for a business permit to operate in Daly City.

Presently only one firm—Mersey Ambulance—has a business permit.

The restriction is the result of a 1965 ordinance requiring owners to obtain such a permit, in addition to a business license, which the new applicant has.

The goal of last year's law was to end what City Manager Edward Frank termed "great confusion" in which lack of coordination between several ambulances had caused confusion.

(Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Meanwhile . . . More Beauties Wait in Wings

While Miss Pacifica begins her reign, beauties in other North County cities are awaiting judges' decisions on which of them will represent their communities.

Five finalists will vie for the Miss Daly City title tomorrow night at 7:30, at the Elks Club in South San Francisco. Like Miss Pacifica, the winner will compete in the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta Dream Girl contest this July.

In South San Francisco, girls have until Monday to enter their contest. Miss South San Francisco of 1966 will be chosen July 8.

Miss San Bruno contestants may submit applications until June 15. The Miss San Bruno pageant is scheduled for June 25.

Daly City's Fairest Miss To Be Picked

The Miss Daly City contest will take place tomorrow night at 7:30 in South San Francisco's Elks Club.

Five young ladies, selected from a field of 15 in preliminary judging last month, will compete for the title and the opportunity to represent Daly City in the Dream Girl pageant at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta.

In addition to the presentation of the five finalists and the selection of Miss Daly City of 1966, the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event, has arranged a fashion show which will feature former Miss Daly City winners.

In the running for Miss Daly City honors are Judy Giles, Pat DeBernardi, Madalyn Martindale, Vivian Reiger and Pat Hassman.

Judges will be Earl Taylor of Cypress Lawn; Fred Tautenhahn, owner of Westlake Shell Service; Frank Spadarella, owner of Toto's restaurant; Ed Speer, vice president of the Westlake Merchants' Association, and John Moffitt, Colma businessman.

Carter Smith, San Francisco radio personality, will be master of ceremonies.

Prizes valued at around $3,000 are in store for the new Miss Daly City, including clothing, jewelry and beauty and charm instruction. All have been donated by the chamber and local businessmen.

D.C. Accepts Streets, Sets New Project

Daly City councilmen Monday night formally accepted the $22,000 street paving program completed last month, and authorized work on another project which will cost $5,672.90.

The completed project included an even two dozen streets, most of them in the Bayshore district and other older sections of Daly City.

The contractor, L. C. Smith, utilized a process provided by the Thermo-Bond Corporation of Santa Rosa which actually melts the existing pavement, sealing cracks and incorporating

Open Housing Ruling Tested By Committee

Reception Cool, Group Charges

A new open-housing policy in Serramonte home sales, announced by the developers last week in the wake of a court ruling declaring Proposition 14 unconstitutional, was promptly tested over the weekend and couples met, a fair housing leader charged, "a very cool reception."

Betsy Blum, a member of the steering committee of the Ad Hoc Committee for Fair Housing at Serramonte, said "we are not satisfied at all."

She added that "there was the ignoring bit again." The committee had picketed the huge Daly City development after it charged that minority groups were being refused the opportunity to buy the development's $21,000-and-up homes.

Miss Blum said that five couples, three Negro and two Filipino, approached Serramonte salesmen over the weekend.

The first three couples were not offered sales brochures, Miss Blum said. "They were given a very cool reception."

When salesmen found out the first couples were test cases, she declared, the next two couples to arrive were given the brochures. "There was a definite change in the salesmen's manners."

However, he added, "in no instance did they (the salesmen) offer to show the couples around."

A spokesman for Standard Builders, Serramonte's home-builders, could not be reached for comment on Miss Blum's remarks.

Last week, Albert F. Skelly, (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Ad Hoc Group To Announce Further Plans

The next move by the Ad Hoc Committee for Fair Housing at Serramonte, will be announced at a press conference at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, according to Mrs. Catherine Smallwood, a spokeswoman for the group.

The conference will be held in the offices of the San Francisco Council for Civic Unity at 437 Market Street in San Francisco.

Mrs. Smallwood declined to reveal the nature of what will be announced tomorrow except to say "we're having difficulties with Serramonte."

Thieves Take $2500 Ring

Thieves broke into a San Bruno home and stole a ladies' diamond ring valued at $2,500, San Bruno police said Monday.

The theft was reported by Walter C. Lubinski of 120 Hampton Court. He said the ring had been kept in a safety deposit box in a cedar chest.

Also stolen, he said, were two men's suits, valued at a total of $174, and a transistor radio, valued at $110.

Police said the thieves apparently entered the house through an unlocked garage door.

S.S.F. School Unit Asked To Hold Moneys

The South San Francisco Unified School District Monday night was asked not to spend any more money for school facilities in Daly City's new Serramonte subdivision.

Albert Waters, chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee for Fair Housing in Serramonte, made the request after charging that a new policy of selling Serramonte homes to all races wasn't working out as announced.

He said Negro couples had received a "cool" reception at Serramonte over the weekend. Standard Builders, developers of Serramonte, had announced last week that a policy of selling only to whites would be rescinded.

The school district's board of trustees referred Waters' request to the district attorney's office.

(At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School Monday night, Lois Scampini, deputy district attorney, told the board there was "nothing on the books" to bar the district from building schools in a subdivision where a segregated policy was being maintained.)

In other action, the South San Francisco board approved a student accident insurance policy to be underwritten by North American Life and Casualty Company.

The policy will cost $2 for children in kindergarten through eighth grade and $3.50 for children in ninth through twelfth grades. Trustees emphasized that the policy would be for partial coverage only.

School Site Pact Signed

An agreement for the purchase of a site for Serramonte High School was approved Monday night by the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District.

The approval came after a resident had sharply questioned the district's administration for

Violation Of Brown Act Is Denied

A charge that trustees and the administration of the Jefferson Elementary School District have been meeting unannounced, in violation of the Brown Act, was hotly denied yesterday by Frank Greenwood, district superintendent.

The charge had been leveled by Michael Pennings, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association. He is a teacher at Thomas Edison School.

He resigned his post last week, charging that the board had failed to follow its own policies in making appointments.

Pennings charged that the administration and the board had met at an unannounced dinner session in a Daly City restaurant in March.

In reply, Greenwood said he had requested to meet with the trustees at dinner to discuss a "personal matter with them which had no connection with the school district or its affairs but which could possibly effect my working relationship with them in the future."

He added that school business was not discussed and no conclusions were reached.

After the dinner, he said, the board members went to the district's administrative offices for a regular meeting.

"I could just as easily have asked the board to meet immediately following the meeting in an executive session," Greenwood said. "However, I did not wish to delay them longer than necessary as I knew this was to be a long meeting."

Greenwood said that he discussed the meeting with the district's counsel, deputy district (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

Court Ruling Prompts New Plea to Board

By DON MILLER

Extra pay for after-school coaching duties was approved in principle Monday night by the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District.

The action represented a long-sought victory for the district's coaches who late last month lost their suit in Superior Court, asking that the district be required to grant the extra pay.

Superior Court Judge Frank W. Rose had ruled that the salary issue was a matter to be resolved in contract negotiations rather than in the courtroom.

It was this ruling that prompted the coaches to bring their request before the board again—more than two years after the proposal had first been broached.

In approving the extra pay principle, trustees asked Dist. Supt. Edward Morgan to draw (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Mother Abandons Boy With Sitter

Daly City detectives are investigating the abandonment of a 22-month-old boy, named "Mike," with a babysitter last Wednesday.

And they have only the slimmest of leads—if one dares call it a "lead"—as to the possible identity of the mother, described only as a "small Latin-type" by the babysitter, Lela-belle Mattes of 176A Werner Street.

That is a description that would fit thousands of women, police acknowledged in probing details of the case.

The babysitter said the mother left the child—who is in good condition—with her, presumably for a two-day stay, until Friday.

The mother has yet to show up. The youngster is not hurting for clothing, however. The suitcase left with the child for the babysitter contained an "excessive supply" of apparel, it was reported.

The mother had refused to leave her name and address with the babysitter—except to say she lived in the Tenderloin area.

The Post has advanced deadlines for its June 1 issue because of the Memorial Day holiday.

And the Post's office at 30 Park Plaza will be closed on Memorial Day—next Monday.

All social, church and general-interest news should be submitted to the Post editorial staff by tomorrow, so it can be processed for publication.

S.S.F. Plan Unit Names Raffaelli

Mario Raffaelli, vice chairman of the South San Francisco Planning Commission, Monday night was elevated to the commission chairmanship by his fellow members.

He succeeds Warren A. Steinkamp who was ousted from his post by the City Council May 2. Steinkamp had unsuccessfully run for the council in April. Councilmen later charged him with making "incorrect" campaign statements.

Named vice chairman of the commission was Frank Mammimi. The commission has seven members.

Foes Chide Curb Boxes

"A most unsightly situation," concluded the Daly City Council Monday night, contemplating the results of the Postmaster General's recent order that mail boxes in new subdivisions be placed at curbside.

Besides, councilmen agreed, such placement of mailboxes "would interfere with proper use of the sidewalk by pedestrians," since most Daly City areas have no parking strip between curb and walk.

The council unanimously (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Wing Will Be Dedicated To John Mongan

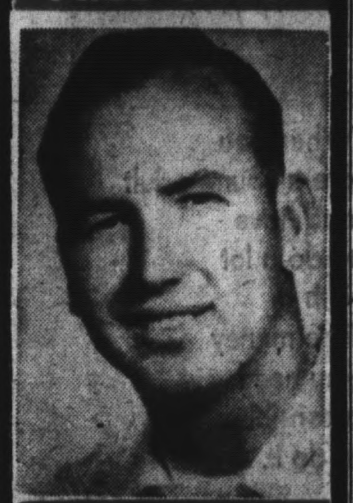

The new social science wing at Jefferson High School in Daly City will be dedicated in memory of John P. Mongan, principal of the school until his death last month.

The student body will present Mongan's widow with a plaque at its annual Awards Assembly tomorrow.

The plaque's wording is, "Dedicated to the memory of John P. Mongan in recognition of his devoted service to Jefferson High School from 1937 to 1966."

Following the presentation, the plaque will be placed on the wall of the new wing, which Mongan had helped plan.

balance firms resulted in poor service. Actually, the ordinance does not restrict the number of ambulance operators who may be granted permits—but King and American is the only firm which has formally requested one, and the council has put off consideration of the application since early March.

City officials echoed Frank's contention that too many permits could lead to renewed ambulance problems. Councilman Bernard Lycett expressed the fear that with a profusion of operators, "We'll be back where we were before."

"In the past," agreed Councilman Francis Pacelli, "We've had poor ambulance service." Erick Engman, vice president and general manager of King and American, told the council that until last year his firm had done business in both San Francisco and Daly City since 1906, and is eager to return to serving its former customers in Daly City.

The bulk of his service would be private calls, Engman said, adding that only about four percent of all ambulance service is composed of emergency calls. It is just that four per cent which is the most important, contended Pacelli, pointing out that it is emergency calls which are literally life and death matters.

The councilman wondered whether King and American would have an ambulance stationed in Daly City on a full-time basis. They would, answered Engman—and more than one ambulance, if the need warranted.

"We want to establish a permanent base here," Engman said. R. L. Ariani, attorney for the firm, added that the need for ambulance service will continue to grow in Daly City, especially with the advent of Medicare, which will prompt more elderly people to use such facilities. Ariani cited to the area's great increase in population and territory.

Councilmen, torn between the ideals of free enterprise and the principal, recognized in State law, that some types of businesses may be restricted by franchise to protect the public welfare, appear to be embarking on a matter destined to create more controversy before it is resolved.

Free Want Ads For Students In Post-Times

Free Want Ads for students will be published by the Post-Times starting tomorrow.

The annual feature is designed to help students secure employment and cash before summer. The program will last through Thursday, June 2. Classified Manager Margaret Buschini announced. Any school student, including this year's high school graduates, are eligible to place the free Want Ads.

The ads must be handwritten by students and placed in person at any one of the Post-Times four Peninsula offices. More details may be found in an advertising announcement elsewhere in today's San Mateo Times.

more than a half hour on the need for building the school.

Board President Elio Fontana, noting that a lengthy agenda was being held up, cut the questioning off.

The resident, Albert B. Drain of 17 Southdale Avenue, said that Serramonte was not needed because of present excess space at Oceana High School. He said Westmoor High School had enough acreage to permit additions that would house Serramonte-bound students.

District Supt. Edward Morgan and Administrative Assistant Richard Coltrill cited figures and state authorization, backing up the board's decision to build Serramonte. Morgan said that Oceana's capacity of 2,000 students would be reached in five years and that expanding Westmoor would, because of space-ratio formulas, penalize the district in terms of state aid.

Serramonte High School will be built on a 54-acre site in the northwestern part of the new Daly City subdivision of the same name. The agreement to purchase the site was reached with Suburban Realty, developers of Serramonte, after lengthy negotiations.

The district had filed a condemnation suit over the land when the district and Suburban could not agree on a price. The two parties subsequently agreed on a price of $2,747,000, which will include the cost of grading and installing utility lines to the site.

With the agreement concluded, the district will drop its condemnation suit. Serramonte will be built to ultimately house 2,000 students. Before it opens, the district will rent some 30 portable classrooms to accommodate Serramonte-bound students attending Westmoor.

ing a thin new top layer with the rejuvenated older one.

The new work, which will involve 13 streets in the Westlake area, will be performed by the Bay Slurry Seal Company of San Mateo, which entered the low bid.

Their method adds a layer of one-sixteenth of an inch of new pavement to the old surface, resulting, said City Engineer Arthur Reschke, in a street which will last "for at least another five years."

More street work will be begun soon, when Washington Street is improved to full city standards. The council paved the way for that project by authorizing an agreement with Southern Pacific for construction of a railroad grade crossing and installation of signals and safety devices.

Cost of the project, some $18,000, will be shared by the railroad and the city. In addition, said Reschke, the city may apply to the Public Utilities Commission for funds which would reduce Daly City's share to just one-fourth of the entire cost, slightly over $4,000.

Councilmen also authorized a request that the state extend some $55,000 in gasoline tax money from Fiscal year 1963-64, which must by law be used by June 30. It would be used to extend Hickey Boulevard.

up a recommendation for implementing the pay proposal. Morgan said he would present his recommendation, along with other teacher pay proposals, at the June 13 meeting of the board. He estimated the cost of the extra pay proposal at $48,000.

The board's action came on a an attorney for Standard, issued a statement, declaring that Serramonte homes would be offered for sale "to all persons, regardless of race, color or creed."

The announcement stated, "The Serramonte Realty Company, sole agent for homes in Serramonte, has been instructed... by the various corporations building homes in Serramonte for sale, that they will now comply with the Rumford Act, inasmuch as Proposition 14 has been declared unconstitutional."

That proposition, passed by voters a year and a half ago, banned the Rumford Act and all other fair housing laws in California.

It was ruled unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court. Serramonte's about face from an announced policy of racial discrimination followed a concerted campaign by North County and Bay Area civil rights groups, which had won the support of several civic and religious groups.

The announcement by Skelly elated officials of the Ad Hoc Committee.

The Rev. Howard Bryant, a spokesman for the group, declared last week: "Naturally, we're very elated over the fact they've taken a new position... this came as a complete surprise. We were really prepared to go on indefinitely with the picketing."

He added that there are "people who are definitely interested" in buying a home in Serramonte and that "there'll certainly be a test as to their (the developers') sincerity." Rev. Bryant said the picketing would be suspended. "I see no further need for it for they have publicly stated their new policy."

He said that had Standard Building continued its segregation policy, the picketing program would have been "concentrated and intensified."

"Basically, I think what started the ball moving is the picketing," he said.

The Ad Hoc Committee had been picketing Serramonte primarily on weekends. The picketing began April 30.

Rev. Bryant said the committee had expected its picketing would have to be continued for another six to nine months before results would have been achieved.

While expressing elation at Standard's decision, Rev. Bryant at the same time criticized Daly City officials for what he said, was a failure to take a stand on the moral issue involved in the Serramonte disagreement.

"They were very evasive," he commented. The Ad Hoc Committee had asked the City Council May 9 to pass a resolution calling for a halt in city spending in the subdivision, on the grounds that the developers had openly discriminated against racial minorities in the sale of homes.

A spokesman for the State Fair Employment Practices Commission in San Francisco, reached at a meeting in Los Angeles, said the commission was "pleased and delighted at the turn of events and hopes to see meaningful, concrete evidence that a non-discriminatory policy will be carried out."

The commission had received two complaints, alleging discrimination in home sales in Serramonte and had launched an investigation. FEPC Commissioner Louis Garcia, a San Francisco attorney who is handling the two pending complaints, said, "It is of course good news that they have expressed their willingness to comply with the Rumford Fair Housing Act."

"I hope," he went on, "that other major homebuilders or their associations throughout the state will make similar statements of compliance." Garcia added that the FEPC motion by Trustee Raymond J. Milton who asked that the extra pay principle be applied to other after-school teaching duties as well as coaching.

Milton said that granting extra pay "would be in the best interests of the district" and that the board, based on the recent court decision, had "the prerogative" to do so.

His motion followed a review of the extra pay controversy and a request that the pay be granted by Joseph McGrath, football coach at Jefferson High School, who has acted as spokesman for the coaches. McGrath said that only per cent of the school districts in California did not have an after-school pay schedule.

"The overwhelming practice in this state is to award compensation for this kind of work," he declared. "It's the rule rather than the exception." McGrath said the coaches, while supporting the tenet that other after schoolteachers should also be compensated, could not speak for these teachers and thus were presenting their "own case."

His remarks were assailed by Trustee Lyall Ingersoll who said that coaches are rewarded for after school activities by having the sixth period of the day off. It's getting to be pay on pay," he said heatedly. "This is getting out of hand."

Ingersoll also charged that on several occasions, he had driven by Jefferson High School and had noticed physical education classes "without any direction at all." And he added: "I've tried to find somebody expending energy at Jefferson."

This brought an angry retort later from McGrath who declared: "I take exception to the fact you are saying there is nothing going on in the physical education program. This is not true."

passed a resolution protesting the order, and directed City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf to mail off a copy to the Postmaster General, as well as North County legislators in Washington. Also on the list of recipients will be County Supervisor Jean Fassler, appointed this month to a Presidential commission on beautification.

Daly City thus joins a growing list of Bay Area communities in denouncing the federal directive.

The resolution, as summarized by City Attorney Paul Hupf, notes that the new arrangement would be of little advantage to the post office locally, since carriers would still have to leave their vehicles at each house and walk across the sidewalk to the box, which would be protruding from the lawn or walk on its pillar or post.

Councilman Bernard Lycett added that street-side boxes would also present increased problems of pilferage of mail.

early February. He would have been 19 on June 23.

At Oceana he lettered in wrestling and participated in football and track. He had lived six years in the county.

Larry is survived by three brothers, two of whom attend Oceana.

No funeral arrangements had been made yesterday pending return of the body. Mrs. Foster said that burial would be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

will continue to watch closely actual sales practices at Serramonte, to be sure that the announced policy is "consistently implemented."

Another investigation had been ordered by the San Mateo County Human Resources Commission.

The commission had begun the investigation after its counterpart in San Francisco had urged all public and private bodies to refuse to co-operate with Serramonte's developers in any manner.

Violation Of Brown Act Is Denied

attorney Lois Scampini, and it was her opinion that there was no violation of the Brown Act.

Regarding Pennings' charge that the district has failed to follow its promotion policies, Greenwood declared:

"The board of trustees has never formally adopted a policy regarding procedures in determining personnel promotions. How can a board violate a policy that does not exist?"

Greenwood charged that Pennings' accusations were "a political smear and nothing more." He said Pennings had acted at this time because three members of the board of trustees are running for election in the June 7 primary.

Thomas Noonan is seeking the county assessor's job, Joseph Lewkowicz is running for county treasurer and George Perry is seeking election to the seven-man board of a proposed North County Unified School District.

Greenwood said he felt that mixing schools and politics "is a dangerous game." And he added:

"I personally wish that none of the members on my board were running for other offices, but since they are, it is my responsibility to see that none of the mud slinging slops over on the Jefferson School District."

In a statement released last week, Pennings charged that Greenwood had stated in March that he was in favor of school unification but that he had attempted to "coerce" teachers into taking no stand "because as he put it, 'the board is against it.'"

Greenwood, in his reply yesterday declared:

"If meeting with the officers of the teachers' association and pointing out possible ramifications of a course of action they are contemplating, then I'm guilty."

"In reference to the unification meeting, I asked the staff to remain neutral. Not because the board took an opposite stand but because I thought the issue could divide the community as it has in many other areas. I did not want this to happen in Daly City."

CREATIVE WRITING COURSE

Injuries Fail to Daunt Jeff Adult Class Student

By LE PACINI
BARBARA JEAN HEFFRON like to write stories, but she'll have a hard time matching the one she's lived.

Miss Heffron has been attending the Jefferson Union High School District adult school continuously since the fall of 1963. But that's not the story.

Since the spring of 1964, she's been making a round trip to school from her home in Sonoma and since the fall of 1965, the trip has been made with the aid of a wheel chair, and later crutches.

FOR UPON returning from her writing workshop class one night she was rammed head-on at 80 mph by a drunken driver on Sonoma's Petaluma River Bridge.

She came out of the collision—so violent it pushed her car's motor onto her lap—with enough injuries to fill a medical journal index.

IRONICALLY, Miss Heffron, a 24-year-old Jefferson High graduate, took an adult course for credit. "But I'll continue to enroll," she says. "What I've learned is worth the 90 mile round trip from Sonoma. My writing gave me the courage to live."

Even while flat on her back in the hospital, she refused to allow the accident to interfere with her writing.

She took a correspondence course and occasionally sent friends into her writing class conducted at Westmoor High School, with stories and orders not to come back without criticism.

cal comments from her instructor and classmates.

By the spring of 1966 she was back in her writing class, taught by Le Pacini, in a wheel chair, sometimes driven by friends and relatives from Sonoma, other times driven from her family's home in Daly City ("depending on my physical therapy appointments.")

WHEN SHE FIRST enrolled in her writing class in 1963, she also took a basic English course because she felt that her English usage could be improved. During the semester of her accident, still brushing up, she was taking a regular English course and living in a barn.

The young writing asperant had purchased a three and a half acre ranch and was breeding and training purebred Arabian racing quarterhorses.

Her salary as an assistant at a Sonoma veterinary hospital, where she had been helping to support herself for eight years, wasn't enough to house both her and her horses in style—thus, the temporary barn life.

She's now living in her own home in Feathers Hot Springs in Sonoma County.

Her horse business—Sara Lee Farms—is, since the accident, "More a hobby. It was originally supposed to be profitable," she says.

BUT HORSES and crutches notwithstanding, Barbara Jean Heffron's ultimate goal is still to write, and she says, "Nothing except the devil himself can stop me from attending class." It looks like the devil might be overmatched.

Former D.C. Jeweler Dies

Charles Behrend, 71, owner and operator of a jewelry store at 6301 Mission Street in Daly City for 22 years until he retired in 1961, died Thursday in Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

A native and resident of San Francisco, he was a member of Daly City Post 410, American Legion, and a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are a daughter, Dale I. Dunn of San Francisco; a brother, Julius Behrend of San Francisco and a sister, Mrs. Elisabeth Behrend Brunn of San Francisco.

Services were held Saturday at the W. C. Lasswell and Company funeral home. Contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

C OF C PROGRAM

A Pat on Back for D.C.

Cy WILL THOMAS
Daly City government leaders came in for a pat on the back at Thursday's meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Reason for the approving gesture was what Supervisor Mrs. Jean Fassler called a "forward move" in pushing for federal urban beautification program money.

She spoke at a special County Government Day program sponsored by the chamber.

Explaining that fulfillment of supervisory chores is "more than a full-time job," Supervisor Louis Chess outlined some of the many meetings that keep them all busy.

His own schedule for that day, he added, started out with a 9:30 a.m. appointment with the county manager, E. R. Stallings, and was climaxed with an appearance at a fraternal organization function at 10:30 p.m. after a pair of Berkeley meetings.

Chess also commented on the two study sessions a month the supervisors hold to assist them to analyze and wade through the information gathered from a multitude of government agency meetings, both at state and local levels.

Above and beyond their routine, day-to-day committee and meeting assignments, the supervisors get special chores at that session, Chess said.

He also touched on other goings on with which a busy supervisor must keep in touch—such things as the activities of the local agency formation commission, Bay Area pollution and freeway development.

Mrs. Fassler cited the importance of regional planning, an area in which San Mateo County "leads the field," she said.

She also brushed upon the role of the supervisors, regarding the establishment of school district tax rate. The board sets the rate, but is not empowered to adjust the school district budgets.

A Reminder On Medicare

Social Security officials today reminded persons 65 years of age or older to sign up for Medicare before May 31 if they wish to be covered by Medicare after July 1.

The Social Security office serving the North County is at 761 South Van Ness Avenue in San Francisco. The office is open each Thursday night until 9 a.m. as well as 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each weekday.

SUPERVISORS SPEAK

Memories Jogged At Chamber Meet

County Supervisor Louis Chess, once a Colma resident, jogged a few memories for the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce members yesterday, while two other supervisors pointed to present and future ambitions of county government.

Supervisors A. C. "Bud" Harrison and Mrs. Jean Fassler also participated in the chamber's annual County Government Day program at Val's Redwood Room Two other supervisors, James Fitzgerald and William Werder, were on county business elsewhere.

And, while the incumbent county leaders talked briefly about the structure of county government and the importance of some of its agencies, in this year of elections, two supervisory candidates took it all in from their seats around the luncheon tables.

Both Robert St. Clair and Under Sheriff Wesley A. "Wes" Pomeroy were introduced—but did not speak—as candidates for the seat now held by Harrison.

Also present at the politically flavored gathering was Broadmoor Chief of Police Rau W. Savage, who aspires to be San Mateo County sheriff.

Chess, who is board chairman, glanced back to the "old days"—when he first went to work for Southern Pacific at $35 monthly—when roads were built and maintained on an absolute district basis, with equipment and other supplies "ordered in fives" . . . and when a veterinarian was the county's public health officer.

But, he reminded, that's all changed today, and has been since the 1930s.

Chess, who attended Jefferson Elementary School, explained that, among other things, there's an active engineering department for county-wide accomplishment and an unusual consolidation of public health and welfare administration and service.

43 Westmoor Girls Qualify In Shorthand

Forty-three Westmoor girls have qualified to be awarded shorthand speed awards from the Gregg Awards Department for completing the 60 and 80-word-per-minute proficiency tests. The first-year students, after having studied Gregg shorthand for only three quarters, have proven themselves in these speed tests and can use their awards of either a gold pin or certificate at any business firm to help insure themselves of a job.

From business instructor Mrs. Sharleen Mahall's three first-year classes are Hazel Deacon, Juliana Palmer, Nomie Kleve-sahl, Nancy Clark, Beverly Rau, Frances Zebrowski, Kinda Meeder, Louise Mattis, Wendy Morrison, Cathy McIntyre, Loretta Bemis, Sheryl Quansstrom, Heide Mueller, Marie Chuh, Barbara Kearns, Veronica Welch, Bonnie Rohr, Marie Sook-aris, Angela daCunha, Sue Robertson, Kathi McGenity, Christine Bertling, Annette Menchini, Elaine Pistoresi, Toni Phillips, Ann Pinkus, Linda Floyd, Christine Castagnola, Linda Ricci, and Palmyra Carley, who passed the 60-word-per-minute speed test for five minutes with a maximum of 5 per cent errors.

Passing the same test but for three minutes was Pat Paul, Barbara Armstrong, Janet Shafro, Ellen Blake, and Michele Devito of Mrs. Mahall's classes. Christine Bertling, Annette Menchini, Elaine Pistoresi, Toni Phillips, Ann Pinkus, Linda Floyd, Christine Castagnola, Linda Ricci, and Palmyra Carley. Only one student, Christine Castagnola, passed the 80-word-per-minute test.

From Miss Loscutt's steno class are Judy Erickson, Nancy Granucci, Janet Marino, Karen Mattson, Claudia Shuler, Teresa Suttle, Linda Taylor, and Evelyn Zanders, who each passed the 60-word-per-minute test for five minutes.

Fire Starts From Cord Of Toaster

A fire that started from an overheated toaster cord charred the kitchen and left smoke damage throughout a small one-bedroom frame dwelling at 392 Paloma Avenue, Pacifica, last night.

Firemen said the occupants of the home, Mr. and Mrs. John Faccini and their small child, were not at home when the fire broke out, engulfing the kitchen, at 7:40 p.m.

Several kittens perished in the blaze.

Neighbors reported the fire, which was first knocked down by a citizen wielding a garden hose.

Firemen, taking over, soon had it extinguished.

Owner of the house was listed as Thomas Smith of Pacifica.

An estimate of the loss was undetermined pending further Fire Department investigation.

Pantomime Shows Set Peninsula

The Daly City Teen Drama Group is making a second tour with its pantomime group. Last week the group performed at Lincoln and Webster Schools, offering a pantomime show outdoors with the children on the grounds participating with the group.

Saturday afternoon, the group will perform at Westlake Park at noon, at Olympia School at 1, and at Westlake School at 1:30 p.m.

Second Fight Arrest Made

A San Bruno resident at whose house four men were stabbed during a party early May 14 was arrested on five counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The suspect is Leo Aycock, 38, of 22 Pacific Avenue. Investigators said several teen-agers had attended the party.

It broke up in a fight about 2:30 a.m. that resulted in the stabbings. None of the wounds were serious.

Police said Aycock's arrest stemmed from an investigation into the party and the fight.

The arrest was the second to evolve from the incident. Gerald M. McKelvie, 22, of 230 Armour Avenue, South San Francisco, was arrested on a charge of investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

QUESTION? What individual annually uses more sheets of paper than any other single person in San Mateo County—or, perhaps, in the United States?

Bill Weiss, that's who, and it's about a quarter of a million sheets a year, easily better than a ton if you want to go around weighing sheets of paper.

And he does it all by his lonesome, unless you count his wife, Faye, who does loan some assistance at their San Mateo home-office.

No, Weiss does not collect scraps of paper and roll them into gigantic balls for "Believe it or Not." He doesn't take notes at local council meetings nor is he compiling a comprehensive book of Italian jokes. One wag at The Post editorial offices guessed that he had a volume of "An Anthology of Castro's July Speeches," another figured it was Orlando Cepeda's new book, "My Thoughts on Herman Franks."

Give up? Bill Weiss is a baseball statistician. He now compiles weekly stats (and, eventually, seasonal stats) for several minor leagues, his biggest client being the Pacific Coast League. Readers of baseball's "bible," the Sporting News, are usually reading Weiss' compilations when they peruse the publication's weekly statistical happenings.

Weiss, of course, has felt the sting of the gradual decline of the minor leagues—having at one time done stats for as many as 16 leagues. His peak year was 1956, when he looked over box scores for 4,000 games. He does about half that now, but has processed better than 50,000 games since he started in the business in 1948.

Besides the mere compilation of stats, Weiss has published numerous guides and record books for both major and minor league teams.

WEISS ISN'T entirely wrapped up in baseball. He's also an avid ice hockey fan and a history buff, specializing in San Francisco history, the old radio days, jazz, and United States political and sociological history.

But when the chips are down, even his avocation is, truly, baseball. He's been collecting memorabilia on the game since he was eight years old, has all "Baseball Guides," dating back to 1885, every "Baseball Register" ever printed, every "Who's Who" since its first 1912 edition, every Sporting News since 1929, and thousands of miscellaneous books, articles, publicity material, World Series programs (every one since 1903), and the career records of more than 50,000 players active since 1940.

The 40-year-old Weiss, originally from Chicago, got his first job as a league statistician in 1948 while waiting for a bus in Columbus, Ohio.

He was attending a school, sponsored by the National Association for front-office personnel, on the recommendation of Will Harridge, the American League president.

While waiting for the bus, he met Howard Green, president of the Longhorn League and half owner of the Abilene team in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Green asked Weiss if he wanted a job, Weiss accepted, and that season he acted as a special assistant to Green, did stats for the entire league, and managed the Abilene box office.

In 1949, he moved to San Francisco and went to work for Jerry Donovan who was then president of both the California and Far West Leagues. Bill became secretary and official statistician for both leagues.

He moved to San Mateo the next year and began working for himself, right through 16 leagues, tons of paper . . . and so why wouldn't he make a good subject for Ripley?

Couple of weeks ago, we printed some impressions on the fight game from an anonymous expert but space cut us short of some of his most perceptive remarks. Following is what we missed:

"Kids nowadays are in much better condition than the oldtimers. Sure, the oldtimers put in long training camps. They had to work out for a month just to sweat the booze out of their systems before they could even begin training for boxing.

"Another misconception is that fight men don't have the patience to work with kids anymore. They have the patience but with the draft, why should they. Just when they get a kid to the point where he's ready, he's gone for two years and he comes back like he never learned a thing and is almost too old to start all over again."

And while we're on boxing, here's an item that's twice been edited out, and frankly, we think it's one jim-dandy of a line. Do you know that Georges Carpentier was the only fighter to campaign in all eight weight divisions? There, now, wasn't that worth waiting for?

A GENERAL Electric computer, working exclusively on the American League, has come up with an interesting analysis of last year's top clutch hitters. It's too detailed to recite anything but the results in the space we have, but for what it's worth, are these:

Harmon Killebrew, with a fantastic .886 batting average when pressure was at its toughest, was the all-around A1 clutch man. Not far behind him were Curt Blefary, Don Mincher, Mickey Mantle, Jimmy Hall, Smokey Burgess, and a .250 hitter from Cleveland, second baseman Pedro Gonzalez.

Most disappointing big men were Tony Oliva, AL batting champ, and, ironically, Zoilo Versalles, AL Most Valuable Player. Former MVP Brooks Robinson was also down on the list, as was the great Al Kaline.

Burgess, a lefthanded hitter, shattered platooning theories by hitting .455 against lefty pitchers. And Tony Horton, a righthanded swinger, hit .80 against righthanded pitchers.

ONE OF THE "in" sets favorite preoccupations is trying to define "camp" humor and attempting to pinpoint the beginning of it all.

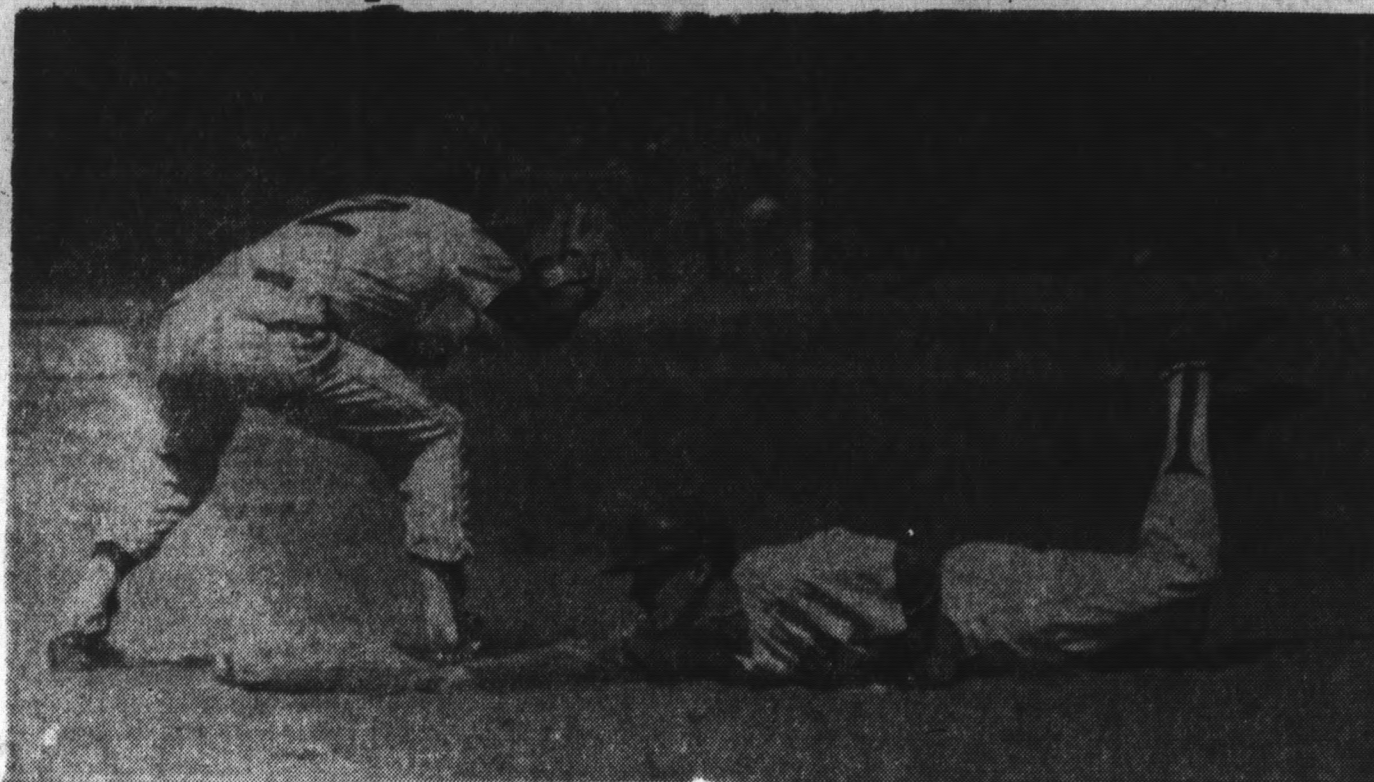

There's no mystery to either question. As a collegian, our little group knew "camp" humor by another name. We called it "So-Bad-It's-Good" and our hero was not Batman but The Green Hornet (which will soon be on television), and, occasionally The Shadow.

As to the originators of the current wave, you can credit that—as you can to many of our sociological idiosyncrasies—to sport.

To be specific, to the Mets, so bad they were good.

And do you know who were the originals in pmac (camp) spelled backwards? The Yankees, of course, so good they were bad.

LARRY OTTERMAN of South San Francisco had to give it the slide treatment to avoid being picked off first base in the Warriors' final game of the season Friday. Waiting for the throw is El Camino first baseman Dan Tyler. The Colts rallied for three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to down the Warriors, 5-4, and take second place in the final NPL standings (Post Photo)

NPL BASEBALL FINALE

Colts Top S.S.F. for 2nd; Jefferson, Terra Nova Win

All but the shouting was over in the North Peninsula League last Tuesday when Westmoor won the championship, but Friday's action provided enough shouting to awaken Methuselah.

In a fierce battle for the runner-up spot in the NPL, El Camino won out by rallying to beat South San Francisco, 5-4, while Jefferson blew a 12-inning contest to Oceana, 6-5. In the other game, Terra Nova put the final touches on Half Moon Bay's winless campaign by downing the Cougars, 10-0, behind the three-hit hurling of Mike Bracco.

For El Camino, it was a victory well earned, as the Colts, down 4-1 in the fifth inning, scored once in the bottom of the fifth, and three times in the sixth to salt away their ninth win against three losses.

The Colts scored first in the bottom of the initial frame when Dan Tyler singled, went to second on an out, and scored on a single by Gary Andreacchi.

The Warriors scored twice in the top of the third when Rich Ellars singled, stole second, and Jim Henry singled him home. Tom Olmo then doubled to score Henry.

Henry set a new school defensive record at first base by handling 84 chances in a row without an error for the season. He wound up batting a healthy .459.

The Warriors scored another pair in the fourth on an RBI single by Larry Asterling and a home run by Ellars.

But then El Camino bounced back and finally won it by scoring three times in the sixth when Craig Galli singled, as did Gary Andreacchi and Vic Ornelas was safe on an error, scoring Galli.

John Castellanos then followed with a single that scored both Andreacchi and Ornelas, giving the Colts sole possession of second place.

For Jeff, it was an afternoon of total frustration as the Indians, knotted with Oceana 1-1 at the end of seven, scored four times within the next five innings, only to have the Sharks tally five times and win.

In the top of the twelfth Ron

Cap Loses to Bearcats, Sees Title Hopes Killed

The Capuchino Mustangs had to be content today with—as the saying goes—waiting until next year in the aftermath of their 6-3 loss to the San Mateo Bearcats on the winners' field Friday.

The loss eliminated Capuchino from the Mid-Peninsula League baseball race and gave the title to the Mills Vikings who were idle Friday.

Big blow in the game was bashed by San Mateo's Bob Smith. He belted a homer with two mates aboard in the bottom of the third inning. Cap had carried a two-run lead going into the frame.

Ron Sorg opened the bottom of the third with a walk. Mike Prieto then doubled and Fred Garrett singled Sorg home. Smith then sent everybody across the plate with his homer.

The Bearcats picked up a solo run in the fourth on an error and another single tally in the fifth on Sandry Schreiber's single.

Cap had taken its 2-0 lead in the first inning when Wes Robinson tripled, Ken Pilieri was hit by a pitched ball and Joe Graben singled to drive in Robinson. Pilieri scored on an ensuing error.

MIDWEST LEAGUE

The arm of Gary Stoller moved the unit's Donuts Bombers into undisputed possession of first place last week as he pitched his team to a 6-0 victory over the PAL Mustangs. Stoller apparently had everything going for him as he silenced the bats of the Mustangs en route to his two-hit shutout victory.

Leading the Hunts offensive attack at the plate were Steve Vurray and Bob McLennon as each collected a pair of timely hits.

The Holy Angels Astros jumped into the winners' column last week as they defeated Blake's Bulldogs 5-3. Dan Dezman and Paul Nannini led all Astro batters as each collected a pair of safeties. Jon Annot had a perfect day at the plate for the Bulldogs as he went 3 for 3.

Tom Lujan again paced his OLPH Falcons team to a victory as he pitched a 2-0 win over the Holy Angels Astros as he pitched a four-hitter while striking out 12 Astro batters. Mike Evans collected a pair of hits to give his team offensive support. Steve Rice, Yankees pitcher, struck out 11 Falcon batters.

Mike Evans led the OLPH Falcons to a 5-2 victory over the Holy Angels Astros as he pitched a four-hitter while striking out 12 Astro batters. Mike Evans hitting support were Tom Lujan and Jeff Traflet as each collected a pair of hits.

Ben Franklin Wins Eighth Grade Crown

Benjamin Franklin School's eighth grade track team has come home with the eighth grade championship of the Burlingame Invitational track meet for the second straight year.

Members of teams from 14 schools throughout the Peninsula participated in the meet.

Benjamin Franklin won with 26 points. Taylor finished second with 20.

Scott Alves was a double winner for the champions. In the long jump he recorded an 18-6 leap. Last week in a triangular meet, he set a new school record with a jump of 18-9 1/2.

In the 75-yard run finals, he took second place.

Vic Davis of Benjamin Franklin took first place with a time of 6.1. In the 300-yard run finals, Benjamin Franklin's Jack Woodworth took second and Gary D'Acquisto, fifth.

Pete Hoover of the champs took third in the 660-yard run and Wally Klevesahl recorded his best mark in the shotput, 40 feet, to finish fifth.

Benjamin Franklin's relay team took an easy first in the finals but the team was disqualified because one runner stepped into another lane.

Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

A BIG WEEKEND ahead for everyone eager to get away from our fog for a long weekend holiday and, according to the datebook, it will be followed by a last flurry of club activities before summer vacations scatter the local population across the state.

Getting Memorial Day weekend off to a memorable start will be the Buddy De Franco concert this Saturday with the Westmoor High School Stage band in the school gymnasium.

While the kids probably know all about this particular musician who recently won the Down Beat polls as the top jazz clarinet artist, we of the older generation may need a little orientation as to where this man fits into the scheme of music. His credentials seem to justify the claim that this is an evening for everyone for he is the leader of the traditional Glenn Miller orchestra.

Two Westmoor boys, Tony Viegas and Richard Pena, have arranged compositions for De Franco to perform Saturday. Viegas has composed a work written for clarinet with a small combo and Pena has written a score for De Franco with a full band accompaniment.

Young Pena has received widespread acclaim for his Jazz Liturgical Service for Communion which was premiered on Easter Sunday in the Temple Methodist Church in San Francisco and has since been performed at San Francisco State College.

The Westmoor band itself has won honors at the University of Nevada State Band Festival under the leadership of band director Howard Loeffler. Saturday it will play with De Franco and have a varied program which will include vocalists and dancers.

THE WESTLAKE CATHOLIC Women will hold their annual installation breakfast for new officers on Sunday, June 5, immediately following the 9 a.m. Sodality Mass in the Our Lady of Mercy Church.

Mrs. Albert Fambrini the co-chairman will be assisting Chairman Mrs. Victor Sariotti with arrangements for the event which will be held in the Lakeside Olympic Club.

Mrs. Raymond Forcina has been extending the invitations and persons who have not as yet responded may still make their reservations by calling Mrs. Patrick Schofield or Mrs. Francis Clifford. Mrs. John Fitzpatrick will be breakfast hostess.

Mrs. Robert Bell, the retiring president of the group will preside at the installation rites which will install Mrs. Howard Pobitz as the new executive officer. Mrs. Phillip Glebow will be the incoming vice president; Mrs. William Shanahan, recording secretary; Mrs. Val Franz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Gehre, treasurer; Mrs. James Diggins, first director; Mrs. Dino Tonelli, second director; Mrs. John Shubanka, third director; Mrs. Richard Galliani, fourth director; Mrs. Lloyd Moulton, publicity; Mrs. Joan Stack, AACW; and Mrs. Madeline Willdin, the historian.

ENJOYING LUNCHEON at the San Francisco Press Club with a recently returned friend were Mrs. Jack Mihalovich and Mrs. Murray H. Friedman of Westlake.

Mrs. Shirley Yudin, the artist who designed the tablets for the 10 Commandments and created the striking menorah for Temple Judea, was the guest of honor, having only recently returned from a year and a half stay in Santiago, Chile.

The trio followed luncheon with a tour of the annual Bohemian Club Art Exhibit and exchanged chit chat concerning Mrs. Yudin's recent exhibit of surrealist drawings in ink and gouache which was hung in the Exposition Hall of the North American Chilean Institute of Culture in Santiago.

THE PACIFICA FEDERATED Women's Club will install new officers at a dinner meeting on Wednesday, June 8, at the Long Table in Pacifica.

Mrs. Fred Schaeffer will be installed as president in the ninth annual induction of officers. Serving with Mrs. Schaeffer will be Mrs. Virgil Morton, first vice president; Mrs. Aldo Cenepa, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Macario, treasurer; Mrs. Sylvester Koche, recording secretary; Mrs. Ernest Mattson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Don McMannis, auditor.

Mrs. Morton reports that dinner will begin at 7 p.m. with the ceremony of installation to follow.

THE HIGHLANDER CHAPTER of the City of Hope has been pledged an all-out effort in the attempt to raise the funds needed to implement the Pilot Medical Center's five-year, $10-million program to increase treatment, research and education by the Latin American Women's Club, according to Mrs. Bette Garcia, chairman of the Latin American Bay Cruise for the City of Hope.

According to Mrs. Garcia, the women's organization has pledged to do its utmost for the project and it is now calling on the general public to help make its fund raising event the Bay Cruise a smashing success.

The cruise is being organized for this coming Saturday night and anyone wishing to take part may do so by calling Mrs. Garcia, 334-6894 or Mrs. Terry Blum, 566-4007, for reservations. The boat will leave Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco at 8 p.m. and return at midnight. The four intervening hours are to be filled with dining, dancing, pinat, games and a program of entertainment.

THIS IS THE WEEKEND, too, of the Drishane Club picnic at the Shamrock Park in El Verno, Sonoma County.

The Irish picnic will be open to the public with a $1 admission charge to raise money for the Sisters of the Holy Infant Jesus. Reservations or more information are available to those calling Mrs. Frank Murphy, 992-3718.

Readers of Irish extraction may be interested in the fact that the Drishane unit is holding its annual membership drive. According to Mrs. Murphy the dues for a year are $1, meetings are held each month and there is one dance and one picnic held annually. Anyone interested in joining should call Drishane Club President James Linehane, 731-7315.

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 3, at 8:30 the Daly City Community Chorus and the Belle Tones, will present a free community concert entitled On Stage Tonight.

According to Patti Stolz, director of the chorus and the Belle Tones, the selections to be included in the program will range in variety from folk songs to highlights from current Broadway musicals.

The program will be held in the Westmoor High School Little Theatre and those planning to attend are urged to bring the members of the youngest generation along to witness a special visit from Mary Poppins who is planning to appear, umbrella and all!

In town, while on leave last week, was Hal Stites, son of former Westlake civic social leaders Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stites.

Jeff Reunion
Reminder For Classmates

Graduates of the Jefferson High School classes of 1966 through 1969 were reminded this week of the forthcoming joint reunion.

The event will start at 7 p.m. June 18 in the Grand Ball Room of the Sheraton-Thunderbolt Hotel, 101 Bayshore Boulevard, Millbrae.

Further information may be obtained from Donna Reid Morris, Gerry Bertetta McDonald or Jack Lewkowitz.

Future Business Leaders Conduct
Invitational Tea

Terra Nova's Future Business Leaders held their fourth invitational tea in the multipurpose room to introduce business students to the F.B.L.A. Club's activities. A program with the 12 purposes of F.B.L.A., the F.B.L.A. creed and plans for next year were circulated.

About 50 guests, including business students, F.B.L.A. members, and faculty members were welcomed by the club president, Barbara Thiel.

Highlight of the tea was a discussion of last year's activities—field trips by Debby Veikos, guest talk by Karen Sharp, Northern Section Conference and Workshop by Sue Lynch, contests by Judy Howell, conventions by Sharon Bowen, and scholarships and awards by Mary Ann Walsh.

Pinewood Derby To Be Featured At Cub Pack Meeting

Cub Pack 360 will hold its next meeting at Thomas Edison School multi-use room tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

A Pinewood Derby will be held, featuring cars that the Cubs have hand-carved. Prizes will be awarded.

A regular ceremony will also be held to award Cubs various badges they have earned.

Membership is open for boys between the ages of 8 and 11.

A program has been planned for the summer months.

Women's Investing
Is Topic for D.C.
Daly City YWCA

"The World of Investing and Women's Role in It" will be explored by John Carberry, a representative from the investing firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, at a program sponsored by the YWCA tomorrow at the Westlake Community Baptist Church, Southgate and Elmwood, Daly City, at 10 a.m.

Child care is available for a nominal fee.

Broadmoor Group
Chooses Officers

The Broadmoor Property Owners Association has elected new officers. They are:

Fred Ruhland, president; Al Ickler, vice president; Joy Lock, secretary and Lillian Manning, treasurer.

Directors named were: George Condon, William Noonan, Ickler, Mrs. Lock and Mrs. Manning.

Folk Dancing
Friday Night

Friday night is folk dance night at the Daly City War Memorial Building on Mission Street.

For the summer months there will be a class for beginner adults starting at 7:30 p.m. June 3, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department and directed by Elsie MacLaren, an experienced folk dance teacher.

The charge is 50 cents per couple.

El Camino Reelers will join the beginners at 8:30 p.m. for a half hour of dancing, then will continue with their own dance from 9 to 10:30.

A special invitation is extended to oldtime folk dancers to brush up on the dances they did several years ago. Many of them are still appearing on programs. The best dances introduced in recent years will be taught.

Lutherans to Hold Picnic

Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church families will spend Sunday, June 5, at Blackberry Farm picnic grounds in Cupertino. Plans have been made for the games and food by the Hi League teen-agers of the church.

Special plans are made for games which will include all ages. Starting with 6-year-olds, both boys and girls will be given a chance to compete—and the winners will win very substantial awards.

Eating time is set for one o'clock. Reservation of the softball area is from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Adults and children can go swimming at the pools without additional charge. Drinks will be provided.

Pacifica Bridge Club Schedules
Card Play

The Pacifica Bridge Club will conduct its weekly open game Friday at the Pacifica City Hall, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Several clubs in the area have closed, but Pacifica has drawn the "stranded" players from neighboring communities and offers a tournament for persons who like pleasant players and a full schedule of special events.

Several of the members have done well in sectional tournaments namely the Ron Lusk's, C. R. Detweiler's, Miriam Davis, Mae Schaeffer, Sheila Hyman and the H. W. Holton's.

Pacifica has a bridge class for beginners, which will be the nucleus of a junior game at the end of the present series. For any information please call Director Elmer Harris.

Lady of Mercy Installation

The thirteenth annual installation breakfast of Our Lady of Mercy will be held June 5 at the Lakeside Olympic Club.

Mrs. Victor Sariotti, spiritual director, announced that women of the parish will attend a 9 a.m. mass, and the installation will follow.

Mrs. Albert Fambrini is co-chairman, Mrs. Raymond For-

Pacifica Church
Women to Attend
Cupertino Meet

The Bethel's Women's Missionary Council has had a busy month during May with various activities throughout the month.

Tomorrow, the women will go to the Assembly of God Church in Cupertino to hear Mel Gram, missionary to Africa, at 10 a.m. and Ray White, a member of the student center at San Jose State College, at 1 p.m.

As a climax for the month, they will hold a baby shower missionary to the Sioux Indians in South Dakota. Although Mrs. Beckstrand can not be present, there will be gifts presented and boxed to send to her and her new son, born last month.

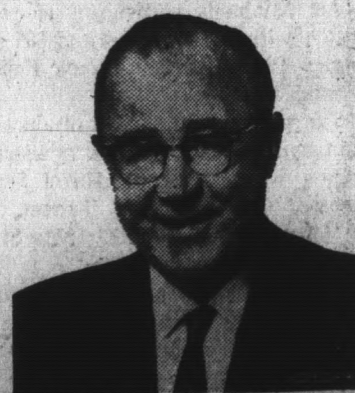

The women of the Missionary Council also will hold their regular day meeting, at which time they will make crib sheets for the church nursery, dish-towels and other things for the commissary. The meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, at 343 Heathcliff Drive.

Kindergarten Talk At Nursery School

Miss Pat Paff, Westview School kindergarten teacher, will speak to the members of the Pacifica Co-operative Nursery School at Oceana High at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Her topic will cover preparation of children and parents for entering kindergarten. Questions and a discussion period will follow.

Older nursery school children and their mothers will visit Miss Paff's morning class June 8 to learn what kindergarten will be like.

First of Four 'Burning Bright' Stagings Friday

The Spindrift Playhouse will open a four-performance run of "Burning Bright," by John Steinbeck, Friday, at the Pacifica Library Community Room, Palmetto and Hilton, in the Sharp Park district of Pacifica.

Other performances will be on Saturday and again on June 3 and 4.

Curtain time is at 8:15 p.m. Sydney Clark is director.

The drama concerns the burning desire of a middle-aged man to pass on his heritage to a son, of which he is incapable. A young fellow worker becomes father of the child, which the older man believes to be his. The action is carried out by four characters who play the same people in different surroundings.

The scenes include a circus tent, a farmhouse, a ship and a hospital room. Barbara Aubuchen, John K. Martin, Aubrey Lumley, and Craig Guenther are in the cast.

Group tickets, at discount, are available from Luther Spraker, at 355-6735.

Maureen Finlay, James Gaspar Of D.C. Are Wed

San Carlos is the first home for Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas Gaspar who were married recently at the immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

The bride is the former Maureen Bernadette Finlay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer Finlay. James is the son of Mrs. Miriam Gaspar of San Carlos and Louis Gaspar of Daly City. Maureen is the granddaughter of Mrs. Maria C. Icaza of Menlo Park whose home was the setting for the reception.

For her wedding, Maureen selected a floor-length gown of white peau de soie with a wide train and a princess bodice of scalloped antique lace. She carried a Spanish prayer book owned by her great grandmother and written in 1868. Katherine Vogel was her cousin's maid of honor, and two more cousins, Juanita Vogel and Susan Icaza, shared bridesmaids' duties.

Ronald Harris of Redding stood with James as best man. Ushering duties were assigned Rafael J. Icaza and Joseph I. Icaza Jr.

Maureen attended Carlmont High School, the College of San Mateo, El Camino College and San Jose State College.

Rummage Sale

The women's Association of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, 23rd and Capp Streets, will hold a rummage sale on June 3 and 4, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts will be available.

Walter Jeter Jr., a bass-baritone, will be one of the performers featured in the June 3 "A Night on the Town," to be presented at the Westmoor High School Little Theater by the Daly City Community Chorus. A member of the area's newest professional group — The Entertainers — Jeter also was a star of the 1965 television show on which the community chorus performed. Patti Parks Stolz is director-founder of the Daly City group.

Pacifica Club Installs Staff

Pacifica Navy Mothers Club No. 930 recently held installation of officers at the First National Bank in Eureka Square.

Officers installed by Mary Cristofani were: commander, Lila Somers; first vice commander, Edna Laura Calhan; second vice commander, Maxine Kaufmann; adjutant, Mary Cristofani; assistant adjutant, Marcella Dillsever; finance, Marie Von Glahn; chaplain, Pearl Hughes; judge advocate, Marian Bailew; matron of arms, Bessie Attensia; flag bearer, Elsie Runne.

The club meets every second Thursday at 8 p.m. at the First National Bank at Eureka Square, Pacifica.

North Area Collegians Have Roles

North County students of College of San Mateo will have leading roles in the Friday through Sunday presentations of "Oedipus the King," first Greek tragedy ever to be staged in the campus little theatre.

The director is Melvin K. Ellett, head of the college drama department.

Cast in the title role is sophomore Gordon DeVol of San Bruno, a veteran of lead parts in several CSM productions, including "Hamlet," "Most Happy Fella" and "Thurber Carnival."

Lavern Brooks of Pacifica portrays Jocasta, with Jerry Klingler of San Bruno as Creon, Rex Hays of Redwood City as Tiresias and John Bracci, also of Redwood City, as the chorus leader.

Performances are set at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, with a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday. All seats are reserved.

Another featured student performer is Doug Dunlop of South San Francisco, and another involved in the performance is Lynette Lantz of San Bruno.

Leadership Of Xi Lambda Phi Chapter Changes

Leadership of Xi Lambda Phi chapter, in Pacifica changed hands May 10, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Ryan, 1116 Mason Drive.

The newly installed officers are Donna Shapton, president; Flo Dickow, vice president; Virginia Sharp, recording secretary; Beverly Good, corresponding secretary; Marion Simmons, treasurer; Frances Barretto, civil defense officer, and Dorothy Blasquez, extension officer.

Karen Johnson, June Nash, Dorothy Feyge and Phyllis Johns, received the Exemplar Chapter's Welcome Ritual upon their progression from Ritual of Jewels Degree chapters. The Ritual of Affirmation was given for Flo Dickow upon completion of her first year's membership.

In a humorous vein, an innovation in the rituals of Beta Sigma Phi was a mock ceremony for Nita Buchanan, who recently became a grandmother. Dressed in shawl, granny dress, and bonnet, by her sorority sisters, she was seated for the duration of the meeting in a rocking chair.

ANNUAL POST-TIMES EVENT

'Most Valuable Staffer' Awards to 'J' Students

San Mateo County's top 23 high school journalism students were honored last night at The Post-Times first annual "Most Valuable Staffer Award" banquet at the Villa Chatter in San Mateo.

The winners represented the outstanding journalism students selected by the faculty advisers from 22 San Mateo County public and parochial schools.

"Most Valuable Staffer" plaques were awarded to the student at each school who made the single greatest contribution to his high school newspaper during the present school year.

J. Hart Clinton editor and publisher of The Post-Times, was master of ceremonies for the evening. Assisting him in the presentation of the plaques were Post-Times executives from both the editorial and business staffs.

Accompanying the students at the banquet were their journalism advisers, principals and district superintendents.

The awards are part of a continuing program by The Post-Times to recognize the talents of outstanding high school journalists throughout the country. Similar programs are sponsored throughout the United States, under the joint sponsorship of the American Newspaper Publishers Association and home-town newspapers.

Students honored were: Vicki Graham, Aragon; Charles Frank, Burlingame;

Dianne Shafer, Capuchino; Holly Worrell, Crestmoor; Gregg Atkins, and Paul Moslander, Hillsdale; Scott Eastham, Mills; Jacqueline Gunn, San Mateo.

Christopher James McCarthy, Half Moon Bay; Kenneth Williams, San Carlos; Bonnie Kinler, Carmel; Joseph D. McNair, Ravenswood; Linda G. Pry, Notre Dame; Michael V. Abbott, Serra; Nadine Mignault, Mercy; James Goggin, Woodside Priory School.

Linda Mitchell, El Camino; Ray Baxter, Terra Nova; Kathleen Gardner, South San Francisco; Gary Arata, Pescadero; Susan M. Ertola, Westmoor; Michael Heggum, Jefferson; and Barbara Louise Mann, Oceana.

BUILDING PROGRAM

Bids Surprise Bayshore Board

A low bid $40,000 higher than architects' estimates was received last week by Bayshore School District trustees for construction of new facilities and renovation of present buildings in the district.

The bid dismayed trustees, according to Dist. Supt. Natalie Lipman, because they had expected the current slump in Bay Area building would have produced a lower figure.

Armond & Smith Construction Company of San Jose submitted the low bid of $520,000. The firm was one of four submitting bids.

The board of trustees was to have held a special meeting last night to determine whether to accept the low bid or advertise for bids again in hopes of receiving a figure closer to architects' estimates.

The architects are Bruce Johnson and Victor Bowker of San Francisco.

Other bidders were: John A. Nelson Company of San Francisco, $572,355; Sorenson & March Incorporated of San Mateo, $573,000 and Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $584,700.

Miss Lipman said the unexpected high bids probably would delay the building program somewhat but that the program still would get underway this summer.

The district plans to build a multi-use room at Robertson School and to develop three acres on the school site for recreational use.

Four old classrooms at Bayshore School will be replaced. A library and cafeteria facilities also will be added to Bayshore.

In addition, new window frames and doors will be constructed and general repairs made.

Funds for the program will be provided from the proceeds of a $495,000 bond issue approved by voters last September.

TOOLS TAKEN

Edward Stewart, 66 Fairlawn, Daly City, reported to police that two drills, a saber saw, butane tank and other tools were taken from his pickup truck parked in front of his house sometime last week.

Nine Stolen

Purses Found

Nine stolen purses were found last Tuesday in a department store shopping bag in underbrush near Engvall School at 2101 Sneath Lane in San Bruno, police reported today.

The purses were found by Jon S. Dulik of 2216 Hamilton Avenue, San Bruno.

Police traced the owners from identification papers. The purses had been reported stolen by women from several Bay Area communities, police said.

Two Persons Are Injured

Two persons suffered minor bumps and bruises last Wednesday in a car-truck collision at Orange Avenue and El Camino Real in South San Francisco.

Norma Fava, 38, of 440 Yellowstone Drive, South San Francisco, was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and released after examination.

Wayne C. Bullis, 39, of 2011 Polk Avenue, San Mateo, said he would see his own doctor.

SATURDAY SERVICE

Scouts to Place Grave Flowers

Grave decoration will be Saturday at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno, with hundreds of uniformed San Mateo County Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers placing flowers on the graves of every military veteran.

American Legion posts have arranged for the flowers to decorate the graves of men who recently gave their lives for their country as well as 70,000 other graves at the national cemetery.

The presentation will follow the 5 p.m. flag retreat.

Among those whose grave will be honored is Mark L. Morgan of San Bruno, who at nineteen was the first former member of a San Mateo County scouting unit to be killed in Vietnam.

Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan and a member of Cub Pack 89, died as a Marine lance corporal in a battle at Puhubai on Feb. 28, while serving with the 1st Marines, 3rd Marine Division. He also has a brother who is a sergeant at Hamilton Field.

Flowers also will be provided by students from San Mateo public and private schools. Scouting units are encouraged to bring additional flowers on Memorial Day.

At 5 p.m., a simple memorial service will be held on Flagpole Hill, after which scouting units will walk, by the six San Mateo County Boy Scout Districts, to assigned sections to begin grave decoration.

Concert For Centennial

One of the many occasions celebrating the centennial year of the Jefferson School District will be a May Centennial Concert at Jefferson Elementary School at 7:30 p.m. today.

Wayne O. Douglas, member of the Jefferson board of trustees, will speak.

The Jefferson Elementary Glee Club will present "Songs Around the World," directed by Paul Carpenter.

Jefferson's orchestra, led by their instructor, Richard Snyder, will play several selections. An exhibit of art work by pupils of the school will be displayed.

The public is invited.

Bruno Driver Is Injured

A San Bruno motorist suffered a cut lip and chin when his auto struck a parked car in front of 2326 Rollingwood Drive, San Bruno, early Saturday morning.

The driver, Eugene Livengood of 3005 Fleetwood Drive, said he would see his own doctor.

Police said the parked car was registered to John J. Hendon of 2326 Rollingwood.

Brisbane Police Find Marijuana

A young San Mateo man was booked on a charge of possession of marijuana Saturday after Brisbane police found him hitchhiking on Bayshore Boulevard at Geneva Avenue.

Allan Lloyd Smith, 19, of 1709 South Norfolk Street was jailed, officers said, after a marijuana cigarette fell from his wallet while officers made a routine check shortly after midnight.

A second marijuana cigarette was also found on his person, police said.

According to officers, Smith told them he was on his way home after visiting a Daly City pool hall.

'Witnesses' Plan Confab

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has announced they will sponsor a three-day training conference for 16 San Francisco and Peninsula congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds, June 17-19.

Edward R. Sheehan, president of the Pacifica congregation, will lead a delegation of local residents, as will William Thompson, president minister of the Daly City group.

Main speaker of the assembly will be Arden B. Stutler, district supervisor for Northern California and Southern Oregon.

Pentecost Sunday Rites For Broadmoor Church

Pentecost Sunday will be observed this Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street, Daly City.

The word Pentecost means the fiftieth day from the resurrection of Christ which is observed annually at Easter. The scriptural record states that on the fiftieth day the promised person of God came in the holy spirit upon the assembled followers of Christ. This energizing power became the force for the beginning of the Christian Church and the Christian witness in the world, Pastor Herbert C. Tweedie explained.

At this Sunday's 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services, the congregation will join in the reading of the Biblical account of the coming and meaning of this event of Pentecost as found in the second chapter of Acts.

Reverend Tweedie will preach on subject, "The Person and Power of the Holy Spirit." The music director, Del Severy, will lead the youth Chapel Choir in an anthem at 9:30 and the adult Chancel Choir at 11 o'clock.

Jim Whitlow will accompany at the Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial Allen Organ.

Infant care is provided during both services. Sunday School also is held during both services for three-year-olds through high school ages. The High School Fellowship also meets at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Becky Robb Is Church Youth Prexy

Becky Robb a Westmoor High School junior, has been elected president of the Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, for the area of California and Arizona, at the state youth convention held at Mission Springs, near Santa Cruz, April 29-May 1.

Other delegates attending from Daly City were Connie Adams, 72 Cerro Drive, and Barbara Disque, 222 Wilshire Avenue.

Duties of the California Conference Youth Fellowship president will include planning of the annual convention, scheduled for the Los Angeles area next year. She will be required to give the president's report to the annual conference session, at which each church is represented by its pastor and a lay delegate.

She will attend as a voting delegate, the nationwide Youth Convocation for the E.U.B. Churches, in Estes Park, Colo., July 21-30.

Becky has held offices in her local Youth Fellowship at Seacrest Community Church, as well as in the Bay Area Youth Fellowship. She also is active in student affairs at Westmoor, and was chosen this year as its representative to Girl's State.

She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. Clark Robb of 1154 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

'Family Life' Topics Slated Bnai Israel Lists Events

Reverend Frederick Lindblad of Santa Cruz, will return to the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, Washington Street and Edgeworth Avenue, Daly City, for a "Family Life Conference" Friday through Sunday.

With his singing, music, and program he presents his main theme of "Building Happier Homes and Better Neighborhoods." This emphasis on daily home life opens up topics for discussion, ranging from husband-wife problems and teenager problems to suggestions for homemade substitute TV commercials.

The Rev. Richard P. Fowler of the Westlake St. Martin's Episcopal Church will be the guest speaker at the Friday evening services of Congregation B'nai Israel at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

His topic will be, "Is God Dead." He will present a traditional Bible to the congregation. Birthday sabbath will be observed Friday, and children with May birthdays will be called to the pulpit by Rabbi Shore to be blessed.

Republicans To Talk At D.C. Meeting

North county residents are invited to attend a candidates' night program tonight, sponsored by the Republican precinct organization of Daly City-Colma, at 8:00 p.m. at Eastmoor Avenue, Daly City.

Republican candidates for state and county positions have been invited to participate. Scheduled to appear are state senator Richard J. Dolwig, of San Mateo county, and Robert Miller, candidate for the 27th assembly district. Congressman J. Arthur Younger, still in session in Washington, D.C., will be represented by administrative aide George McQueen.

The governor's race will also be covered, with George Carr, speaker's bureau for George Christopher, representing the Christopher campaign; Ned Hutchinson, San Mateo County chairman for Ronald Reagan; and Clay Barham, speaker's bureau for William Penn Patrick.

Candidates seeking non-partisan county offices were invited as well. Acceptances have been received from Sheriff Earl Whitmore of San Mateo County; Wesley Pomeroy, candidate for supervisor, 2nd District; John L. Carter, write-in candidate for supervisor, 5th district; Martin Sweeney, candidate for county assessor; Marvin Church, candidate for county recorder; and Albert Beardsley, candidate for county superintendent of schools.

Pastor Sets Confirmation

The Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Pacifica, announced that confirmation will be celebrated at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

The young people who have received two years of Christian faith instruction as taught in the Lutheran Church include Lynn Hewitt of 2301 Olympic Drive, Mary Ann Plevney of 443 Heathcliff Drive, Bill Lund, Jr., of 2560 Tara Lane, Sandra Reutzel of 628 Parkview Circle and Michael Spengler of 525 Loma Vista Terrace.

Pastor Johnson's sermon theme will be "Clothed with Power," to be delivered at both 9 and 11 a.m. services.

D.C. Student Arizona-Bound

James Norton of 91 Baldwin Avenue, Daly City, will enter the University of Arizona in September to study for his doctorate in psychology. He has been awarded a National Defense Education Act fellowship to attend Arizona.

A 1962 alumnus of Westmoor High School, Norton will graduate from the University of San Francisco next month. He is the son of Post food columnist Nell Norton.

Student Post For D.C. Man

A San Francisco State College student from Daly City has been elected to sit on the student body legislature next year. Elected in the annual Associated Students election was Claude Attell, 44 Westmont Drive, Daly City, will present students majoring in the school of Creative Arts. Attell, 22, is a senior majoring in industrial arts.

Water District and State Disagree Over $50,000

The North Coast Water District found itself in disagreement last week—$50,000 worth of disagreement, that is—with the State Division of Highways.

The division, in a letter, notified the district that it had been overcharged $50,000 by the district for relocating pipe lines in connection with freeway construction near Skyline Boulevard and Crystal Springs Road.

The division had agreed to pay for the cost of relocating the lines.

Total cost had exceeded $200,000 and the district had been billing the division in stages.

However, the last bill, for $75,000, came back with a notation that it was $50,000 too high.

Harland Hill, manager of the district, said he didn't know why the division felt it was being overcharged. He added that the district would meet with the division in an effort to resolve the disagreement.

In other district business, the board of directors authorized an engineering consulting firm to design a filtration plant for water from the south fork of San Pedro Creek.

Gene DeArmond of the Charles S. McCandless & Company of Menlo Park, the consulting firm, outlined plans for the plant. Estimated cost is $76,000.

North Coast now buys all of its water from San Francisco. The new Pedro Creek source would be used as an emergency supply in the event the San Francisco source failed.

In other business, trustees approved annexing the Fairmont West and Rosita Terrace subdivisions.

The action must be approved by the County Local Agency Formation Commission. Both subdivisions are new.

Jean Fassler Defends Her Dump Role

In her new role as an official expert on the question of natural beauty, County Supervisor Jean Fassler yesterday found herself defending a Coastside garbage dump and opposing curbside mailboxes.

Mrs. Fassler was sworn in yesterday by Presiding Superior Judge Melvin E. Cohn as one of 12 members of President Johnson's Advisory Committee on Recreation and Natural Beauty.

"This is not only an honor to me," Mrs. Fassler said after taking the oath, "but an honor to our country."

Later, Mrs. Fassler issued a prepared statement defending her support of the proposal to establish a garbage and refuse dump in Green Valley north of Montara.

Residents in the area who have charged, among other things that the dump would be an eyesore and despoil the natural beauty of the area, have started a write-in campaign against Mrs. Fassler in the June 7 primary election. They are supporting John L. Carter, who is unopposed on the ballot. The group has also threatened to start a recall drive.

"I suppose people in public life don't really come into their own until they have been severely criticized," the supervisor said.

"I am as deeply concerned about the conservation of our scenic areas and open spaces as anyone in the county. Furthermore, I sympathize with the expressed concern over the choice of Green Valley for a landfill site.

"Yet as a county supervisor I must consider all of the relevant information and data and can assure the residents of my district that their interests are considered along with those of all county residents."

On the subject of mailboxes, the Board of Supervisors, acting on Mrs. Fassler's suggestion, asked the state supervisors association and Congressman J. Arthur Younger to help fight the new requirement that there be only curbside mail delivery in new subdivisions.

"To require a post in the front lawn of every home in all new subdivisions would be unjustly," Mrs. Fassler asserted, "and is a trend I certainly would not support."

"It is an economy move without a doubt, but we have to look beyond economy and consider what it would do to our subdivisions."

Forklift Runs Over Worker

An East Bay worker suffered fractured ribs and other multiple injuries when he was run over by a heavy forklift truck in a South San Francisco construction yard Monday morning.

The victim, Robert G. Maus, 46, of Castro Valley, was admitted to Peninsula Hospital where his condition today was described as satisfactory.

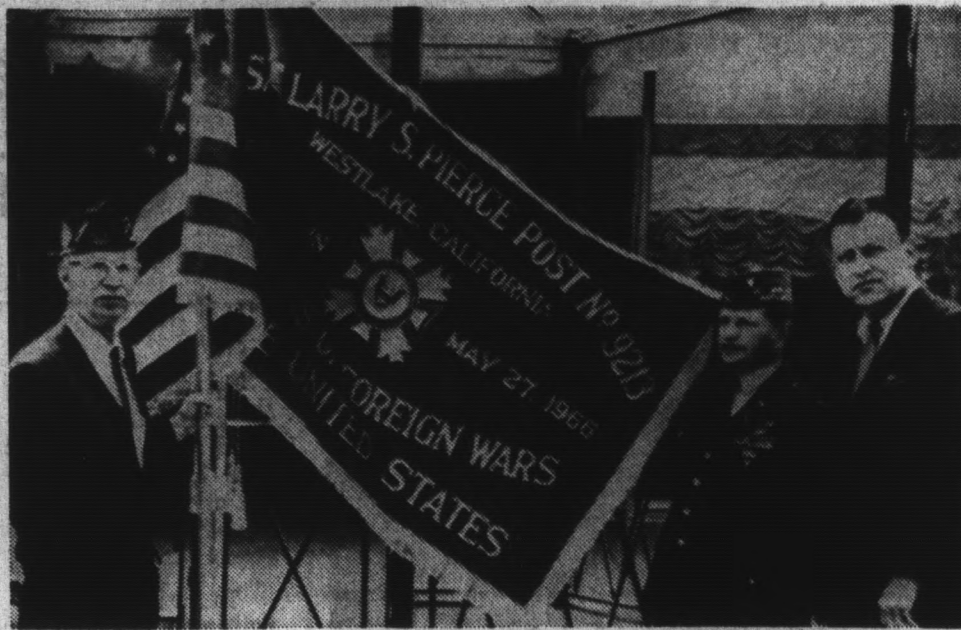

The accident occurred about 9:30 a.m. in the yard of the American-Grassi Company at 111 South Maple Avenue.

Anzo Famucchi of 261 Alta Vista Way, Daly City, driver of the forklift, told police his vision was obscured by a boom and a bucket attached to the vehicle.

Dedicating New Unit

THE LARRY S. PIERCE POST NO. 9213 officially will be established Friday when dedication ceremonies will be held. As a gesture of welcome, the Westlake Shopping Center and its merchant's Association donated the official colors and post insignia flag to the new post's officials. Here, left to right, Alva J. Fleming of the VFW's National Extension Service proudly displays the American flag, and Army Maj. C. D. Gordon, post commander, shows off the official post insignia flag. Gene Perry, advertising officer for Westlake Shopping Center, made the presentation in the Westlake Mall on behalf of its merchants. The Post will be named in honor of Staff Sgt. Larry S. Pierce of Westlake, a Congressional Medal of Honor winner who was killed in action in Viet Nam when he threw himself on a live grenade. His action saved his entire patrol from destruction.

Bruno Aux Elects Staff

New officers of the San Bruno American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 409, were elected at the April meeting of the auxiliary.

Directing activities for the coming year will be Mrs. Anton Tonnesen, president; Mrs. Louis Mullen and Mrs. Irene Smith of Henry Davis, secretary; Mrs.

Vitali, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph Madden, treasurer, and Mrs. Irene Smith, Mrs. Claire Sweeney and Mrs. Maud Mullen executive committee women.

Mrs. Claire Sweeney, Mrs. Frieda Tonnesen, Mrs. Maud Mullen and Mrs. Irene Smith will attend the department convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary at Bakersfield in July. Mrs. Joseph Madden, Mrs. Vitali were elected alternate delegates to the convention.

Grace Ludwig and Mrs. Louis delegates to the convention. Mrs. Elvira Furman, formerly of Clear Lake Highlands, was welcomed as a new member.

COMMENT

Unification Merits Vote of Approval

THE POST recommends to its readers that they vote "yes" on the proposal to unify all schools within the area comprising the Jefferson High School District at the election June 7.

After carefully examining this issue, The Post has reached these conclusions:

In net effect, unification already exists in the upper four grades since the Jefferson district is a union district and the high schools are not separate to their local communities as are the elementary schools. Unification is therefore already one-third accomplished.

The success of the union high school district has been outstanding and there is every reason to believe that unified districts, caring for pupils from kindergarten through graduation in continuity of educational program and progress, can be even more successful.

THE UNIFIED districts should be able to buy more education per dollar expended. They should be able to accomplish savings on administration, operation, maintenance and through more efficient use of existing plants, properties and facilities. At the same time they would be able to qualify for additional state support.

While there may be some disparity of taxation for several years, the savings and the increased state funds will bring ultimate savings to local taxpayers throughout the unified districts. A "No" vote would not avoid the tax leveling imposed by state equalization of a portion of the local tax dollar and it would reject added state support.

The larger districts would be able to offer a more richly varied curriculum, use the special abilities of teachers to more advantage and gain optimum usage from supervisors and consultants.

LOSS OF LOCAL control is not nearly so great as represented. Local control would still be possible in unified districts—only the locality is larger. More to the point, the state already holds many of the most important controls over the schools—they are not local.

Fears that the districts might become "too large" may have some merit, but these are vague fears since size is relative and a survey of recently unified districts showed no relation between the size of those districts and their educational performance or responsiveness to the citizenry.

Another recent survey showed the most economical size for a district to be 50,000 pupils and this would leave leeway for the proposed unified district.

THE CLINCHING argument in favor of unification is one that has long been evident. Unification is the official policy of the State of California, its legislature and its state school board. Failure to achieve unification is to run counter to that policy and the state has made it plain that this will not be permitted. The unification will come, and come according to the ground rules laid down by the state, or the state will step in and do the job itself. In that event, the voters will have no choice whatever. The state could make the unification county-wide.

It is better, and more sensible therefore, to vote for unification now and complete the job by providing for the equalization of bonded indebtedness. Delay will gain nothing and could lose a lot. Vote "Yes" on Propositions 1 and 2.

The Marquee

Theater Venture

Barbara Bladen

EVERYTHING on the entertainment scene is getting big again. We went through a period of intimate clubs, small theatres and musical troupes but in recent years the swing has been to the bigger, more lavish and spectacular innovations.

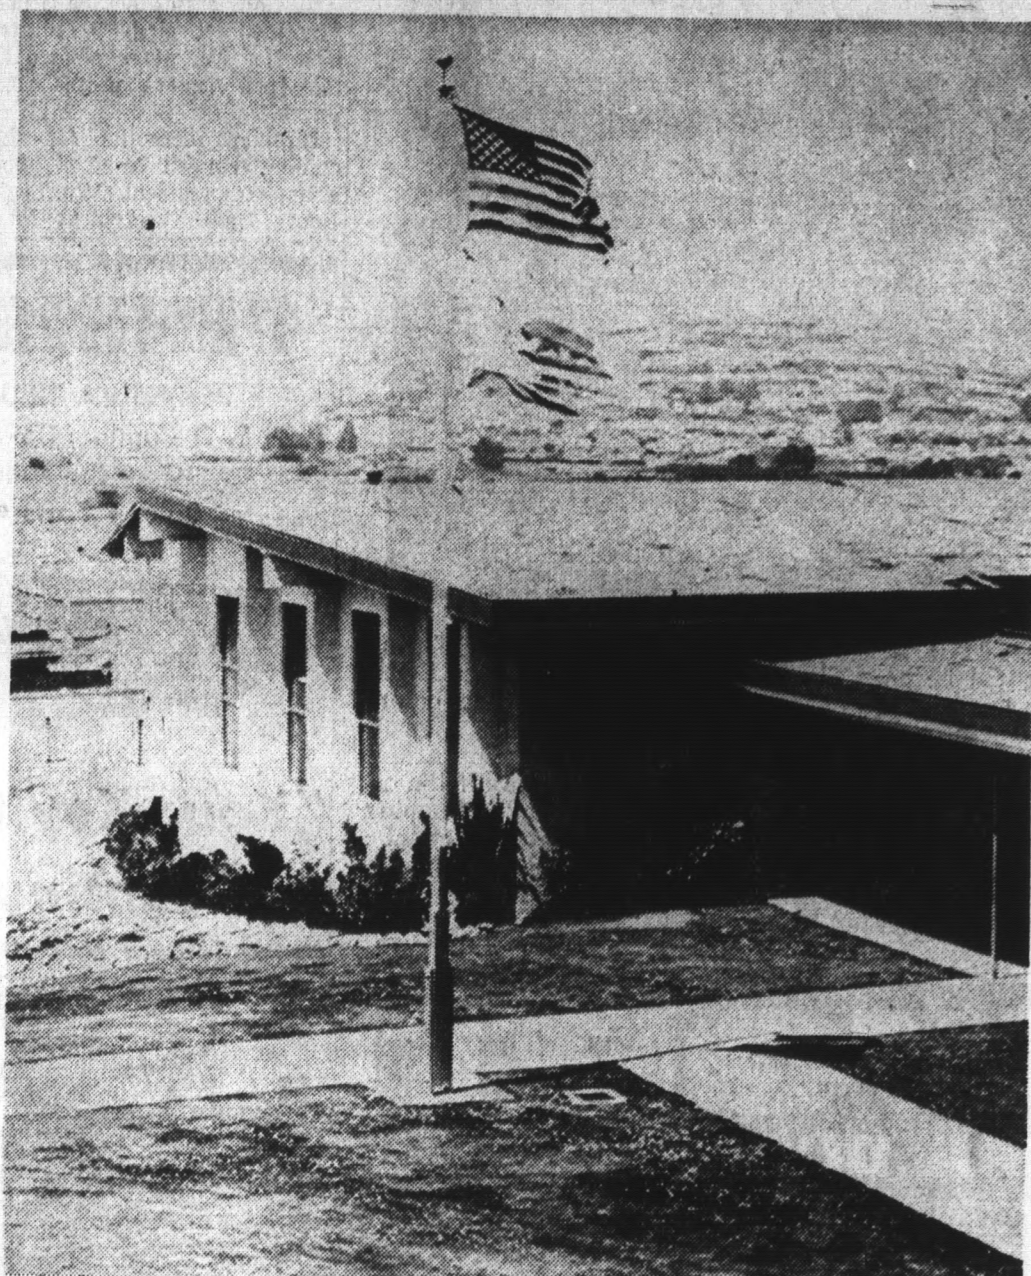

The High Sierra Theatre, an enormous three million dollar show room built off the lobby of the Sahara-Tahoe Resort Hotel in Stateline, Nev., may now be talked of in the same class as the Houston Astrodome, and Circle Star Theatre. It offers more people the opportunity of seeing the best shows in the most comfort.

The facilities rival anything in Las Vegas, from the incredible sound system that features the largest stereo setup in the world to the triple stage area which rises above the patrons' heads on two sides.

The room's decor is predominately red, gold and black in a style reminiscent of the turn of the century with patterned wall paper, paintings and gaslight globe fixtures. The show begins with the 14-piece band on the upper balcony stage as an attractive production number featuring a large cast and eight beautiful show girls perform "Tivoli By Night."

There's a carousel, a tunnel of love and booths of an amusement park where singers and dancers set a lively and colorful tempo. The scene shifts to a chamber of horrors where Count Dracula, the Werewolf, and Frankenstein terrorize the screaming girls. The set is suddenly aflame and from behind a smoke screen emerges the entire band on a moving platform to set the mood for a dance hall number that led to the introduction of the stars of the opening show... Phyllis Diller and The Osmond Brothers.

George Washington School

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL in the Jefferson Elementary School District opened in 1961. It has 13 rooms and also houses the district's Operation Head Start program for pre-school age children as well as kindergarten through sixth grades. This year's enrollment totals 385 pupils. The principal is Dr. Bernhard Gerdes who has been at the school's helm since it opened. The building is at 251 Whittier Street in Daly City.

Better Business

Report Deceptive Phone Sales Pitch

Lorene Beasley

NO ONE can deny a businessman the privilege of using the telephone as a sales instrument unless his practices are unethical. The telephone company has no authority over the usage of its service other than co-operating with law enforcement agencies in bookie operations, profane language and refusal to give up a party line in an emergency.

The few cities which have enacted ordinances to stop telephone solicitations have repealed them because the laws did not successfully control the "gimmick" solicitor but did hamper legitimate businesses with non-objectionable telephone selling practices.

The "gimmick" solicitor is easily recognized. He has a routine sales pitch which opens with a "free offer" for the telephone subscriber—"Call and it will be delivered to you." When the telephone subscriber calls the given number he or she learns that the prize is delivered when a salesman calls at their home to demonstrate a new, revolutionary product which is usually a commonplace appliance.

"You have been selected" is another gimmick solicitation which many a housewife falls for. It generally means that your name has been selected from the phone book to sell books, appliances and photographs.

ALMOST EVERY telephone subscriber has received the "contest pitch." The caller tells the subscriber that a prize is available for answering one or two simple questions, the telephone subscriber is informed that he has won a course in dancing lessons or maybe a subscription to several magazines.

The caller who claims to be making a survey is often a "bird dog" for a firm selling vacuum cleaners or freezers. Never give personal information to a telephone survey. A person receiving such a call should ask for the identification of the firm represented before divulging any information. A person participating in a legitimate survey is never required to purchase anything.

Referral sales are often conducted by telephone solicitations. The salesman calls a householder with the news that he has sold his neighbor a water softener and had received his name as a prospect. The fact is stressed that no money is involved in the purchase of the water softener. The prospective purchaser only has to give the salesman a list of his friends who might also be interested. The company will pay a bonus for every sale made to people from this list. The bonus money will pay for his water softener.

TELEPHONE selling provides a means of livelihood for handicapped persons and shut-ins. Telephone selling, when properly used, is a very effective sales tool for businessmen who sell quality services. When used properly it cuts non-productive sales cost. The salesman of today spends 22 per cent of his time in travel, 17 per cent waiting, 26 per cent paper work, and 33 per cent in selling.

The Better Business Bureau can concern itself only with the abuse, not the responsibility of the telephone. It is the subscriber's responsibility to report misrepresentation or deception to the bureau.

THOMAS NOONAN, right, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District, presents a scroll of commendation to Dr. Earl S. Herald of Daly City who headed a citizens' committee that worked for passage of a $3-million district bond issue election in January. The committee also worked for passage of a $10-million bond issue in the Jefferson High School District. Both issues were approved. The election was held January 25. Pacific Parade

Some Grist For Unification Mill

Don Miller

The pros and cons of school unification in the North County are being vigorously debated these days as the big day draws near June 7. That's Primary Day and this year, the primary ballot will include the proposal to unify all schools within the Jefferson High School District.

To residents of the North County, school unification has been something akin to a long-running melodrama in which the cast of players has changed, the plot has weaved back and forth and the outcome has been in doubt right up until the final curtain.

However, one of the players, the Jefferson Elementary School District, has been steadfastly consistent in its role—opposing the unification of the high school district.

Although District Supt. Frank Greenwood has divided emotions about the whole thing and may be classified as a middle-grounder at this point, his bosses, the board of trustees, understandably want Greenwood to wave the anti-unification banner aloft.

Well, the banner he's been waving, we found out the other day, has some interesting arguments going for it and, without taking a stand one way or another (we'll leave that to this week's editorial), we thought you might find them food for unification thought.

PERHAPS the most telling argument Greenwood and his assistant, Roger Barthuli, came up with concerns things financial and things taxation. Although a good segment of our community is concerned with the educational and academic aspects of unification, a larger segment—characteristically—is worried about money matters.

First, Messrs. Greenwood and Barthuli explain, there is the bonus the state will pay to districts that unify. Based on an anticipated enrollment of 23,000 in a unified North County district in 1967, the bonus money would total $375,000—or the equivalent of 20 cents on the tax rate.

However, the gentlemen point out, it is customary in a new unified school district to adopt a single salary schedule for teachers. That is, instead of five salary schedules (for teachers in each of the five former districts), there would be one.

It also has been customary, they add, for the new schedule to be equal to the best (for the teachers) of all the former schedules. In the North County, this would be the pay scale for teachers in the Jefferson High School District.

Thus, to elevate the pay of the teachers in the four elementary districts to that of the high school level would cost, Messrs. Greenwood and Barthuli figure about $454,000. This would represent a boost in the tax rate of 23 cents.

Take the 23-cent boost and the 20-cent cut because of the state bonus and the net result is a three-cent hike in the tax rate or, in effect, no bonus for unification. The state, we are told, will not cover the cost of equalizing the teacher salaries.

THE SECOND major point the two administrators make concerns the unified tax rate itself and what, they maintain, is the fallacy in the argument that the rate will be lower than what some districts are now levying.

For, they say, according to the formulas under which the new rate would be established, the result would be a tax of $4.47 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Applied against the total assessed valuation of the unified district, however, this rate would raise $1,030,000 less than the total amount now being raised by the five districts that would be combined. Adding the state bonus money and subtracting the cost of the higher salaries leaves a net of $1,109,000 the new district would be short to maintain the same education program as the five districts run today.

Translated in terms of the tax rate, the administrators say, this would mean—for residents of the Jefferson Elementary District—a 15-cent boost instead of a 41-cent cut—the 41 cents being the difference between the district's present rate and the $4.47 that would be the unified district's rate.

Neither Greenwood nor Barthuli are saying that the 15-cent boost would be necessarily levied. They only point out that if the same educational program were to be maintained and teacher salaries leveled, the 15 cents is the price the new district would have to pay in terms of the tax rate.

WELL, AS we said at the outset, what Messrs. Greenwood and Barthuli had to say, we thought, was interesting grist for the unification mill. The arguments they propounded will be debated, we trust, with vigor on the part of the pro-unification forces and just what the unification mill will produce June 7 will depend, as it must, upon who carried the debate.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of schools, that meeting of trustees of the Jefferson High district the other night on selecting members of a new, school boundaries-de facto segregation committee was a vivid example of a group of elected officials trying hard to carry out the wishes of the electorate.

A previous study committee had been lambasted by many residents on the basis the committee did not represent the entire district—that too many members of the 25-man group were concentrated in too few areas.

In selecting the first 66 persons to what will be a 100-member group, the trustees considered three lists of names: those people who had worked on the first committee, those who had volunteered for the second committee and those who had been suggested for the second committee.

The list of those who had been on the first committee contained a notation opposite each name of the percentage of meetings the person had attended. By and large, the trustees, in picking the first 66, steered clear of those persons who were on the low side of the attendance ledger.

The selection process, watched with some fascination by a dozen or so residents, produced one anecdotal gem. One of the trustees, commenting on the qualifications of a prospective committee member, exclaimed "Oh, he's a real sharp one."

Sitting in the audience was the very same gentleman being so sharply praised and when this fact was made known, everybody laughed and a couple of faces flushed. After that point, the trustees sort of looked around the room before they commented about other committee prospects.

The Book Shelf

Perry Mason Off To Re-Run Land

Samuel Chandler

AT LAST the Perry Mason show has been assigned to the land of re-runs ending 20 years of broadcasting.

Perry Mason was created in 1932 by a California lawyer named Erle Stanley Gardner, who defended local Chinese and other clients and stuck by them long after he had kept them out of jail. Although Perry Mason works in a city, he has never shed his creator's concept of a small town lawyer whose fight is against the defects of our system of criminal jurisprudence.

All Perry Mason episodes are written to fit a pattern. Mason takes the cases that other lawyers reject. Through investigation and by employing a repertoire of legal quirks he uncovers facts that the police and the prosecuting attorney have missed. The innocent then go free and the guilty are held over for their day in court.

The formula demands that each mystery have "well-sustained tension," "rapid-fire dialogue," "brisk humor," and "surprising situations." Gardner says he is interested only in fiction that moves swiftly.

ERLE STANLEY GARDNER has profound respect for both lawyers and policemen.

"Most prosecutors," he says, "are conscientious men who try hard to determine the truth, and it may surprise some of my readers to know that in the whole I also have a deep respect for cops... there is nothing that can replace the hard, methodical investigation of good police officers in solving crime."

As A. A. Fair, Gardner writes detective stories where sleuthing rather than courtroom tactics is in the center of the stage. Another series is about a county district attorney named Douglas Selby. Still another is about a detective named Terry Crane.

Gardner calls his home a factory. He keeps five secretaries busy transcribing his dictation. He has abandoned his own electric typewriter because it is too slow for his imagination. During his most productive year he wrote 1,100,000 words or the equivalent of a novel every five or six days.

To his critics, Gardner writes that his approach to writing is commercial, rather than literary. "It's the product that interests me." Nevertheless, he in his books reveals that he has some deep thoughts and can't refrain from saying them in every novel.

One of these voices in an article in the Reader's Digest, "The murder mystery has long been one of the most durable forms of fiction. Why? In the first place the people derive a moral satisfaction from seeing the innocent... triumph over the evil forces surrounding him."

JACK ANDERSON

Jack Anderson, 55, died last Friday of a heart attack while watching the Giants-Mets baseball game at Candlestick Park.

A native of Snyder, Okla., Anderson lived in South San Francisco for 17 years at 165 Francisco Drive. He operated an upholstery store in Burlingame.

He was a member of the Burlingame Lions' Club and the Bernard McCaffrey American Legion Post 355, South San Francisco.

Survivors include his wife, Ellnor; two brothers, Steve D. Anderson and Louis J. Anderson of South San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Maxine Skaggs of Kansas, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson of South San Francisco.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today at the Larson-Garden Chapel, South San Francisco, with burial following at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

ALICE E. NEIL

Alice E. Neil, 61, 1700 El Camino Real, South San Francisco, died last Wednesday at Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, of a sudden illness.

A native of Omaha, she lived in South San Francisco for eight years and was employed by the Cincinnati Sales Company of San Francisco.

She is survived by a sister, Grace Sallender of South San Francisco, and two brothers, E. F. Sallender of Van Nuys and Willard Sallender of the state of Washington.

Burial services were held in Omaha.

MADILINE GRUBAUGH

Madiline Grubaugh, 89, died May 21 at Pacifica, where she lived at 228 Arroyo Drive, for two years.

She was a native of Crosbyton, Texas.

Survivors include Dock Grubaugh Jr., of Pacifica; eight grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were Monday at Nauman-Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, Pacifica. Burial was in the family plot at Crosbyton, Texas, following memorial services there.

11 Teachers Will Leave Jeff District

Commuter traffic, pregnancy and the Peace Corps all have one thing in common.

They have taken teachers away from the Jefferson Elementary School District.

District trustees this week accepted resignations from 11 elementary teachers, and granted leaves of absence to seven others.

Commuting led the reasons for the resignations. One teacher who lives in Orinda said the trip is "too tedious." Another said driving from Los Altos is "too much." The third found the commute from Marin "too difficult."

A fourth young teacher, trustees were told, was submitting her resignation for "maternity reasons."

A fifth has applied to the Peace Corps.

A sixth is getting married this summer and will move.

The seventh is already married, and is moving to join her husband.

The only man to resign did so to take a job teaching high school.

A church school teaching job lured one teacher.

Another woman has accepted a three-year fellowship for doctoral study at Stanford.

And the eleventh teacher has perhaps the best reason of all for submitting her resignation. She's just plain going to relax, having reached eligibility for retirement.

Theft Count Dropped By D.A. Office

Grand theft charges against a former hardware store manager in Daly City have been dropped because of insufficient evidence, according to the district attorney's office.

The charges had been lodged against Jack D. Ingham, 36, of San Anselmo, former manager of Westlake Hardware in the Westlake Shopping Center.

He was discharged from his job February 7.

Dr. Martin H. Rudolph of Hillsborough, owner of the store, had reported to police that several items had disappeared from the store over a period of several months.

Judge Jose de Larjos of Northern Judicial Municipal Court ordered Ingham to pay costs of his court-appointed attorney before dismissing the charges.

CHARLES LEMA

Charles Lema, 69, a sweeper operator for the city of South San Francisco, died May 22 at Kaiser Hospital after a long illness.

A resident of South San Francisco for 66 years, he lived at 835 Olive Avenue.

He was a member of the Santo Christo Society.

Survivors include two sons, Clarence Lema of South San Francisco and John Cardozo of Washington State; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Perko, of Millbrae; 14 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary was recited yesterday at Larson-Garden Chapel, South San Francisco.

A requiem mass will be said at 9:30 a.m. today.

Burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

CHARLES HERBERT MOORE

Charles Herbert Moore, 81, died May 21 at a San Jose convalescent home after a long illness.

He was a native of New York State.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; six children, Mrs. Edna Thompson, Chester Moore, and Harold Moore, all of McKeesport, Pa.; Herbert Moore, of Warren, Mich.; Mrs. Evelyn Kuczer, of Sunnyvale, and Paul V. Moore of South San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Hughes of San Francisco, and Miss Ethel Moore of McKeesport, Pa.; 20 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Larson-Garden Chapel, South San Francisco, with burial following at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Surviving are four sons, Arthur Stopper Jr. of San Jose, Elwood T. Stopper of South San Francisco; Neil Stopper of Cupertino and Leonard Stopper of Burlingame; three sisters, Mrs. Dolores Wells of South San Francisco, Mrs. Iris Farnham of Sunnyvale and Mrs. Myrtle Humber of Cupertino.

Also surviving are a brother, Edward Stopper of San Anselmo; 18 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were by the South San Francisco Mortuary.

JAMES FLOYD FISHER

James Floyd Fisher, 71, of 334 Ferndale Avenue, South San Francisco, died Thursday in Napa. He had been employed by the National Lead Company for five years and was retired at the time of his death.

He was a native of Jefferson City, Mo., and had lived in South San Francisco for seven years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Frances Lewis of Maryland; two sons, Tommie Fisher of Redwood City and Ronald Fisher of South San Francisco; a brother, Earl Fisher of Wilcox, Ariz.; 14 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary at 322 Maple Avenue, South San Francisco. Burial was in Olivet Memorial Park.

MRS. GLENDA J. BIESCHKE

Mrs. Glenda J. Bieschke, 20, who was en route to Scottsdale, Ariz., with her husband, Ronald, died in an automobile accident at Indio May 19.

The couple was moving from Pacifica.

Mrs. Bieschke was a native of San Francisco.

She was a member of the Rittins Teen-age Club of Pacifica and formerly was employed by the Greyhound Bus Company.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Doris Smith of 440 Manor Drive.

Pacific, and her father, Glen Smith of Colma; a sister, Cathy Smith of Pacifica, and a brother, Les Smith, of Pacifica.

Rosary was said at 8 p.m. today at the Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, Pacifica.

Funeral services began at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Chapel by the Sea, then proceeded to the Church of the Good Shepherd, where requiem mass was recited. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

MARGARET M. HEFFRON

Margaret Mary Heffron, 60, of 244 Frankfort Street, Daly City, died last Wednesday in Mary's Help Hospital. She had been a resident of Daly City for 38 years.

Surviving are her husband, Howard E. Heffron; a son, Howard Coleman Heffron; two daughters, Rose Marie Halsey and Margaret Lauretta Heffron; two brothers, Thomas and Patrick Joyce; a sister, Beatrice Joyce, and three grandchildren.

Services were held Monday at the W. C. Lasswell and Company funeral home, and at St. Michael's Church in San Francisco. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

ARTHUR F. STOPPER SR.

Funeral services were held last week for Arthur F. Stopper Sr., of 860 Second Lane, South San Francisco, a resident of the city for the past 16 years, who died May 16 in Peninsula Hospital. He was 72.

A native of Portland, Ore., he was a retired maintenance worker.

Surviving are four sons, Arthur Stopper Jr. of San Jose, Elwood T. Stopper of South San Francisco; Neil Stopper of Cupertino and Leonard Stopper of Burlingame; three sisters, Mrs. Dolores Wells of South San Francisco, Mrs. Iris Farnham of Sunnyvale and Mrs. Myrtle Humber of Cupertino.

Also surviving are a brother, Edward Stopper of San Anselmo; 18 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were by the South San Francisco Mortuary.

Newark Girl Hit By Car

A four-year-old girl, Anita Ruybal, of 38048 Woodruff Street, Newark, received only cuts and bruises when she was struck by a car Sunday at San Jose Avenue and Bepko Street.

Police said Lillian L. Chaffin, 520 Shields Street, San Francisco, was driver of the car.

The girl was walking across San Jose Avenue with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Ruybal, when she suddenly turned back.

CITY OF PACIFICA LEARNS

Rec Use of School Units

The Pacifica City Council learned to its surprise last night that it will soon be up to the city to approve recreational uses of Laguna Salada Union School District buildings and facilities.

Councilmen and trustees held a joint meeting at City Hall, to discuss such questions as who should regulate use of school for meeting and recreation, and where Pacifica stands in the development of recreation facilities at schools. Mayor Harland Minshew asked that councilmen be provided with copies of a letter sent by the board to Eldred Lokker, director of the Park Beach and Recreation Department, setting July 1 as the date the school district will stop issuing permission for recreational uses of its building.

District Superintendent Fred

Lucas said he feels it should be the responsibility of Lokker's department to handle such matters, because it is better equipped to do so.

The policy proposed, he said, is virtually identical to that followed by the Jefferson Union High School District.

Also on the agenda for the meeting was discussion of the joint school-city development of recreation areas at Pacifica schools. The program is planned, said City Manager Karl Baldwin, so that the school grounds will "serve as an integral part of the park program."

Primarily, he said, this involves turfing, and construction of ball diamonds.

Vallejo School has been completed, Baldwin reported. Ortega School is ready for its first lawn-mowing, and should be ready in about one month. Work is in progress at Westview School.

Summer in Europe for Two

Westmoor High School International Friendship Club, which hopes to raise $1,000 to help defray travel expenses for the girls' summer trips abroad. They will participate in Experiment for International Living, living for a month with foreign families.

Daly City Girls Will Live Abroad abroad, living in the homes of two foreign families.

Neither Patricia Brennan, who is going to Austria, nor Kathi McGenity, bound for Britain, knows exactly where she will be living, or with whom.

Kathi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGenity, 34 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, leaves June 7 for New York, where she will board a ship for England.

She expects to attend classes on the ship, along with other youngsters participating in the Experiment in International Living, which sponsors the girls' trips.

She probably will not know until then, she said, what part of England will be her home ventures of their lives—a month each.

Two Westmoor High School girls from Daly City are about to embark on the biggest adventure of their lives, or who her adopted family will be.

Patricia, whose parents are Dr. and Mrs. John J. Brennan, 15 Ridgefield Avenue, is similarly up in the air.

Because her departure date is later—June 23—she will fly to Austria. Her orientation will come during a stopover at Putney, Vermont, where she will be briefed on what to expect overseas.

The girls were chosen by a panel of Westmoor and Daly City leaders, after each had wanted to live with a foreign family, and participated in an interview.

Their expenses will be partially defrayed by a fund begun by the Westmoor International Friendship Club, which is attempting to raise $500 for each girl.

A big portion of that amount was donated last week by the Daly City Rotary Club, which gave the girls $200 apiece.

The remainder of their travel and living expenses must be paid by the girls themselves—including such things as shots, which Kathi says will cost her $81.

The girls' reasons for going are similar. Kathi said her motive is "to gain a greater understanding of people in a foreign country."

Pat said she, too, hopes to learn to better understand the problems of another country, by learning to know the people, and to show them about America at the same time.

Youth Topples Over a Cliff

Steven Synkowitz, 15, 218 Palisades Drive, Daly City, was treated at Mary's Help Hospital Sunday for a fractured left toe and multiple abrasions after toppling over a cliff in the Mussel Rock sector. Firemen assisted the youngster, who fell in an accessible area after losing control of his bicycle at 2:45 p.m.

State Agrees to Fence at Skyline Blvd. Death Scene

The state Division of Highways has agreed to a Daly City request that it provide chain link fencing along the west side of Skyline Boulevard south of Westmoor Avenue, where an 11-year-old girl was killed April 29.

Margaret Galindo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cruz Galindo of 685 Skyline Drive, was struck by two cars on Skyline Boulevard, as she tried to cross two lanes of traffic to retrieve a ball which had rolled into the center strip of the highway from her back yard.

Most of the homes whose rear yards abut Skyline Boulevard already have wooden fences which block access to the highway, but a few do not. The state will extend the existing chain link fence from a point south of Westmoor Avenue to meet a barbed wire fence south of the homes.

"We feel that this is the most critical area," said District Engineer Alan S. Hart, "because some of the property owners have allowed their fences to deteriorate and one fence is entirely missing."

"The state considers properly maintained private fences as fulfilling its access requirements," Hart said.

"As funds become available we are extending the state-owned fences to cover the more critical areas."

A city request that the east side of Skyline, also be fenced in the area, however, was

Rare Opera Records Are Acquired By CSM Library

A large collection of privately recorded performances from the world's leading opera houses has been acquired by College of San Mateo. Some 500 long-playing records, produced in only limited numbers by the Golden Age of Opera Society in New York City, and unavailable commercially, were purchased with the help of funds contributed largely by Peninsula patrons of the San Francisco Opera.

This rare musical treasure—spanning nearly half a century of memorable productions of great works interpreted by great singers—is believed to be the largest of its kind on the West Coast.

To be stored in the College of San Mateo campus library, it will be opened to public use through the library's listening facilities and programmed for broadcasting over the college's radio station, KCSM-FM (90.0 megacycles).

"We are extremely fortunate to have landed this collection," said faculty member Stuart T. Cooke, advisor to the CSM Opera Club, which sponsored the campaign.

By law only 99 copies of each record may be made. All but a few of those were long since allocated to the singers themselves, or their heirs, and other selected people and institutions. The ones remaining were being eagerly sought by colleges and universities throughout the country.

Teachers in S.S.F. Get 5% Pay Boost

Teachers in the South San Francisco Unified School District will get a five per cent salary boost in the 1966-67 school year.

The raise was approved by the board of trustees, acting on the joint recommendation of both the administrative staff and the district's Negotiating Council.

The 12-step salary schedule provides for a beginning salary of $6,000 and a maximum of $12,260.

In addition to the pay boost, trustees also approved three improvements in fringe benefits.

District-paid life insurance policies for certificated employees will be raised from $1,500 to $5,000 coverage.

The district's contribution for health insurance coverage will be raised from $8 to a maximum of $15 per employee, depending upon whether the coverage is for a single person or for the employee and his family.

The sick leave policy was broadened to provide a day of sick leave for each month's service. The present policy provides for a maximum of 10 days a year.

The added fringe benefits, a district spokesman said, represent a one per cent increase in salary.

The five per cent salary boost, the spokesman said, applies to the bottom of the salary schedule. At the top, the pay boost represents four per cent.

In other business, the board awarded a contract to the Dickman Construction Company for building Foxridge Elementary School in the Foxridge subdivision of South San Francisco.

The company's bid of $576,200 was the lowest of four bids submitted. Construction is expected to begin Monday. The contract completion date is September 9.

In other action, the board approved a budget not to exceed $20,000 for a new personnel commission that will serve as an advisory group on hiring and firing of non-teaching personnel.

The commission will begin operation at the start of the 1966-67 school year July 1.

The group is authorized under

Six-Fold Squirrel Problem

By the time a San Bruno woman learned that she had bought a possibly infected squirrel for a pet, her problem had multiplied six-fold.

Last Friday county health and humane officials set out to round up 52 golden mantled squirrels and chipmunks that had been placed in local pet stores by an East Bay pet supply company. Word had been received that there was a flare-up of bubonic plague among wild rodents in several areas of the state, including Shasta and Lassen counties, where the animals in question were captured.

The State Department of Public Health ordered that the animals be rounded up and destroyed. Fifty of the squirrels and chipmunks were found in the shops where they had been placed. But one squirrel and one chipmunk had been sold to unknown parties and there was no way of tracing them. The squirrel had been sold at Alec's Shopping Center in Colma and the chipmunk at the Argilla and Boscacci store at 50 El Camino Real in Redwood City.

As it turned out, the squirrel had been bought by the San Bruno woman. But by the time she saw the newspaper story about the roundup, the animal had given birth to five little ones.

All six squirrels were taken by humane officers and put to sleep.

Authorities still have no idea who bought the chipmunk from the Redwood City store.

Health officials emphasized that they did not consider the situation to be an emergency but that their action was merely precautionary.

Hospital Asks Bids

Bids for the estimated $5 million expansion of Peninsula Hospital have been asked by directors of the Peninsula Hospital District, with June 15, 2 to 4 p.m. scheduled for bid submission time at the hospital in Burlingame.

Howard R. Imus, president of the Peninsula Hospital District, and Richard W. Blaisdell, administrator of Peninsula Hospital, took swift action to publish the bid invitation following more than a week's intensive effort in Washington, D.C., by Congressman J. Arthur Younger urging the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to review the project for bid approval.

More than $500 million in other hospital projects throughout the nation are being reviewed because of the administration's crack-down on general construction to stem inflationary tendencies nationally.

Younger presented figures to show that unemployment in the building trades in San Mateo County have exceeded 15 per cent and any delay in the hospital's construction plans would create a worse crisis.

"In the face of the greatest demand for hospitals in the nation's history because of Medicare, it is inconceivable that this type of construction would be restricted," Younger said.

The hospital received confirmation by telephone and immediately published the bid notice in local newspapers. Imus said that to further aid the local building situation, the board would review bids as quickly as possible with a view towards awarding the contract about July 1.

Voters approved a $3,950,000 bond issue last November 30 for the expansion, and the $1,500,000 State-Federal funds to build the new facilities were allotted as a result.

The expansion calls for a 48-bed psychiatric unit adjoining the present 362 bed hospital; for expanded Radiology department including a Cobalt Cancer Therapy Unit and enlarged emergency facilities.

By NELL NORTON

WHENEVER I write a column in which I feature a casserole or casseroles I know it will be welcomed into many homes. For there is something about combining different seasonings, sauces, meats and vegetables in one dish that appeals to many people.

Apparently the writers of cook books and recipe columns all over the country agree with this type of thinking, for there are cook books dedicated to casseroles alone. And columnists have a large reserve of casserole recipes to share with their readers.

Since this fondness for casseroles is so universal it is a pleasure to offer these recipes this week.

This first dish combines ground meat and zucchini with a rich tomato sauce, topped off with Parmesan cheese.

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 pound ground beef
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 can tomatoes, No. 2 size
- 6 medium zucchini
- 1/2 cup green pepper, minced
- 2 medium onions, minced
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon basil
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 6 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Brown meat lightly in melted butter. Stir in flour and add tomatoes, green pepper, onion, bay leaf, basil, pepper and salt. Cook slowly about 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf.

Slice zucchini into a low buttered casserole, sprinkle with half of grated cheese and pour meat sauce over zucchini. Top with more cheese.

Bake uncovered one hour in a 350-degree oven.

MOST OF US have recipes for a tuna casserole, or a crab casserole and even a shrimp casserole. But do you have a recipe for a casserole that combines all these seafoods? No? Well, keep reading, for you have one now.

TERRIFIC TRIO CASSEROLE

- 1 can tuna
- 1 can crab
- 1 can shrimp
- 1 can mushrooms, stems and pieces
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- 1 cup dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted butter

Drain shrimp and tune. Pick over crab meat to remove any bones.

Prepare the white sauce; melt butter in saucepan, add flour blending in carefully, add salt and pepper. Stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened.

In a buttered casserole layer, half the crab, shrimp and tune; mushrooms, eggs, and chopped green onions. Pour half of white sauce over this and repeat the layers.

Melt the butter in a small saucepan and add grated cheese and bread crumbs. Stir to mix well and sprinkle over the top of casserole. Bake in 350-degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Serves 6.

EASY BANANA CAKE

- 4 large ripe bananas
- Vanilla wafers
- 1/2 pint whipping cream

In a 9-inch-square pyrex baking dish place a layer of vanilla wafers. On these place a layer of sliced ripe bananas. Spread whipped cream over bananas. Repeat wafers, bananas and whipped cream.

Cover with foil and refrigerate at least six hours. Serve small portions! Fattening but nice.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Carol Jean Nelson and David Bruce Hatchel, was announced at a dinner party given by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Nelson, of San Carlos.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hatchel of 114 East Vista Avenue, Daly City. He and his future bride have not set a date.

Carol is an alumna of San Carlos High School and the College of San Mateo. She is a member of the Rainbow Assembly 136.

David attended Jefferson Union High School and the College of San Mateo. He is the brother of James Hatchel of Palo Alto and the grandson of Mrs. Ora Lee Richardson.

Vows Are Exchanged

Susan Jane Erwin became the bride of Gordon Edward Lund at St. Veronica's Church in South San Francisco. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Erwin of 455 Yellowstone Drive, South San Francisco was united in marriage to the son of Mrs. Alma Lund of San Lorenzo.

For the afternoon ceremony, Susan wore a long white satin gown trimmed with lace and pearl appliques. Her satin train was attached at the waist with a satin bow. Her attendants wore floor-length Nile green crepe skirts and white lace bodices.

Carol Ghilardi served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Susan Smyk and Irene Lund. Pam Anderson was the flower girl in a white organdy frock.

David Hughey fulfilled the best man duties as John Pleasanton, Gary McGee, and Daniel Erwin ushered. Craig Greenough was the ring bearer.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Las Vegas and Los Angeles. Susan attended South San Francisco High School and San Francisco State College. Her husband is an alumnus of San Lorenzo High School.

Boy Scouts Win Awards

Boy Scout Troop 80 of South San Francisco featured a "Frog Race" at its meeting with the theme of "Mother Nature's Backyard."

Three bobcats welcomed into the troop were Kenny Bucho, Barry Revell and Tommy Garcia. Welcomed into the Webelos was Ricky Hunger. Four Webelos receiving the "Arrow of Light" badge were accepted into Boy Scouts. Scout Master Robert Taylor welcomed Robert Russell Catron into Troop 186, while Scoutmaster Joe Klackne accepted David Elkin into Troop 80.

Awards were given by Cubmaster John Bekcham to Steven Rogers Kevin Casey, Steven Yamamoto, Michael Ray, Dennis Murphy, Steven Vestneys, Jimmy Beckham, Anthony Demattei, Steven Sappinfield, Chris Maffei, James Marinelli, Ronald Wetzstein, Richard Fulkerson, John Finely and Bobby Sulinski.

Soup, hot or chilled, sets the mood for the meal to come. One way to get lipstick stains from a white collar or handkerchief is to rub with a little butter or bring warmth to a cold winter held in wax paper, then rub away with dry absorbent cotton.

New Jefferson Council P-TA Officers Installed

Mrs. Jack Mitchell, president of the Jefferson Council P-TA recently installed the Crocker-Pershing P-TA officers for 1966-67.

The officers seated were:

Mrs. Andrew Ynostroza, president; Mrs. Millie Pederson, vice president; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emmitt Galvin, treasurer; Mrs. John Sillivos; auditor; Mrs. John Laiosa, historian; Mrs. Joseph Jang; Mrs. Harold Heisch and honorary vice presidents; Mrs. Glenn Forcum and Dr. Bernhard Gerdes. Miss Inez Strauch, retiring teacher of General Pershing School, was awarded an honorary life membership by the unit.

Mrs. Shelby Hartman made the presentation. Miss Strauch has given much of her time in working with the P-TA, serving as recording secretary, teacher representative of Pershing and various other chairmanships.

The program featured classroom demonstrations by second grade classes at General Pershing, and a short play was presented by Warren Twitche's third grade class of Crocker School.

P-TA Events

Fairmont P-TA Seats Mrs. Jack Ervin

Mrs. Jack Ervin was seated as president of the Fairmont Parent-Teachers Association recently, at a meeting that featured additionally the singing of the Daly City Community Chorus.

Installed with Mrs. Ervin by Parliamentarian Mrs. Mary Sunberg were:

Cortez Hope, first vice president; Mrs. George Swett, second vice president; Mrs. Enrico Santucci, secretary; Mrs.

Alan Heyman, treasurer; Robert Holtzer, auditor, and Miss Jeanne Eisemann, historian.

Accompanied by Janet Holden, the chorus sang selections from "The Sound of Music" and a group of folk tunes.

Mongan Memorial Fund Hits $1000

A memorial scholarship fund to honor the late John Mongan, principal of Jefferson High School for 11 years, has passed the $1,000 mark, according to a spokesman for the Jefferson High School District.

The fund total yesterday was reported at $1,120. The spokesman said contributions were still being accepted.

Individuals or organizations wishing to contribute to the fund may make checks payable to the John Mongan Scholarship Fund and send them to the district's offices at 375 South Mayfair Avenue.

Mongan died April 12. He had been associated with the district since 1937.

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson High School District will discuss a successor to his post at an executive session Monday night.

District Supt. Edward Morgan is expected to recommend a successor and the board may appoint a new man after the session.

Thomas Redmond, assistant principal when Mongan died, has been serving as acting principal.

'Five to Life' Sentence For Killer of Policeman

Timothy Lee Silva, who pleaded guilty to the murder of a Broadmoor police officer, was sentenced to five years to life in prison and within the hour he was on his way to San Quentin.

Sentence was imposed by Superior Judge J. A. Branson, after the 21-year-old defendant had declined his offer to make a statement.

Probation Officer Frank E.

Druhan recommended that Silva be given a "long-term commitment."

Silva pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the January 7, 1964, shooting of Police Officer Charles E. Manning at the entrance to a Daly City warehouse. The officer had caught Silva stealing gas and Silva opened fire rather than submit to arrest. The mortally wounded officer managed to get to his patrol car radio, however, and Silva was captured on the scene.

Since then, he has twice been committed to the state hospital at Atascadero as insane. Doctors diagnosed his illness as "schizophrenic reaction, paranoid type" but said he had recovered sufficiently to return for trial and "recognized that he had been grossly psychotic."

Druhan said Silva, who attended Fresno City College, is still the prime suspect in the robbery and shooting of a grocer in San Francisco on November 15, 1963, and five armed robberies and the theft of a car at gunpoint in Fresno between October 19 and December 21, 1963.

Preparing for Westmoor High School's third annual Fine Arts Festival from 6-8 p.m. tomorrow are, Janice Taylor, who holds pan of plaster for Launa Hennings, who is completing her sculpture, "Man on a Track"—a commentary on conformism. At left is Rudy Jeltsch's Christ figure sculpture. The hand is missing, because Rudy was in hospital, still trying to finish the task. Theme of festival is "Life in Itself."

Pacifica Council Meet Cancelled

There will be no Pacifica City Council meeting tonight, due to the expected lack of a quorum.

Councilman James Fox is away on a week long tour of military defense installations sponsored by "Operation Understanding."

Other councilmen are attending an institute of the League of California Cities on the Monterey Peninsula.

The council will hold its next regular meeting Wednesday, June 1.

'Life in Itself' Art Show Theme

"Life in Itself" is the theme of the third annual WHS Fine Arts Festival, to be presented on May 26, 6-8 p.m. The theme will be expressed by a monumental 9x6-foot egg; the symbol for Life.

"The egg is an experience which appeals to the various senses; the whole festival is designed to appeal to the senses," says Chris Kamp, head of a Parisienne, a section of the festival to be held in the gym corridor which will be converted into a facsimile of the Left Bank of Paris. Cafe tables will be set up, refreshments will be served, and folk-singers will entertain.

The senses of sight and touch will be found in the egg which allows not only visitors to peek inside, but also to thrust a hand in. Hearing will be explored when artists sketch to music by the stage band concert, as well as others listen to a jazz liturgical service presented in the girls' gym.

CHIEF HERBERT RITZMANN of the Daly City Fire Department announced the appointment of two new firemen, Larry Biggs and Jim Corbett, to replace two resigned during the past year. Corbett, left, formerly was at Santa Rosa, while Biggs, right, was a member of the Tucson, Ariz., Fire Department. They are pictured with Captain J. Gray.

Pressure On Roads Urged

Continued hammer blows by city officials and community leaders may break the bottleneck on Bayshore Freeway between San Bruno Avenue and Third Street, Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan announced recently.

In a letter to Ryan, Alan S. Hart, district engineer, in the Division of Highways, said plans are scheduled to widen the freeway to eight lanes in early 1967, provided "funds become available."

Hart said widening the freeway was "at the top of the list of priorities" and should be financed during the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Since then, he has twice been committed to the state hospital at Atascadero as insane. Doctors diagnosed his illness as "schizophrenic reaction, paranoid type" but said he had recovered sufficiently to return for trial and "recognized that he had been grossly psychotic."

Druhan said Silva, who attended Fresno City College, is still the prime suspect in the robbery and shooting of a grocer in San Francisco on November 15, 1963, and five armed robberies and the theft of a car at gunpoint in Fresno between October 19 and December 21, 1963.

TANGY BARBECUED LAMB CHOPS are delicious when grilled "to a turn" over glowing coals. It is an appetizingly different idea for outdoor cooking, one to help you vary your summer menus.

Tangy Lamb For Something Unique

Barbecue season is returning again, and millions of Americans will take to the fresh outdoors to stage culinary spectacles on the charcoal grill.

After many seasons of steaks, hamburgers and an occasional roast done on the rotisserie, why not become a bit adventuresome? Strike out and grill some different meat cuts, use various basting sauces and marinades, design unusual kabob combinations, and cook a whole meal over the coals.

One meat cut that's delicious when barbecued, yet rarely prepared that way, is lamb sirloin chops. And here's a tasty way to cook them... with a tangy marinade which is also brushed over the meat as it grills.

It's quickly made by mixing convenient bottled lemon juice, salad oil, chopped parsley, plus a few seasonings like marjoram, garlic, and instant onion.

This basic marinade is one to remember, for it can be used on other barbecue specialties as well. Try it on beef or lamb kabobs, on lamb rib or shoulder chops, on chicken, or even on beef steak. Use it for cooking indoors, too.

As you know, the cooking times given in this recipe can only be approximate. Much will depend upon intensity of heat from your coals, wind conditions and the other variables of outdoor cooking. Lamb steaks may be grilled to either rare, medium or well-done.

TANGY BARBECUED LAMB STEAKS

4 to 6 lamb sirloin chops, cut $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 inch thick (or shoulder chops)
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup bottled lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup salad oil
 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped parsley
 1 clove garlic, split
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon marjoram

Place lamb chops in shallow pan. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over meat. Allow meat to marinate in the refrigerator for at least 4 hours or overnight. Start fire far enough in advance so that coals are covered with light gray ash when cooking begins. Place chops on grill about 3 inches from the coals. Use remaining marinade for basting meat during cooking. Lamb chops cut $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 inch thick will require about 12 minutes for medium doneness; chops cut $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches thick require about 18 minutes for medium. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pot o' Gold Reaction To Spiced Cookie

According to fable, there's a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow waiting for anyone who can find it. But many a family has its own private pot of gold close at home in the form of a cookie jar filled with old-fashioned spice cookies.

If your family loves home-made cookies—and what family doesn't—you'll want to try these easily made drop cookies full of brown sugar, spice, and other things nice such as raisins, nuts, and rolled oats. To bring out the flavors and add a bit of its own, there's a half cup of catsup in this unusual recipe.

The cookies are wonderful with milk, just right with a cup of hot tea, and perfect for a coffee break. They're great to put in a school lunch box and delicious served with ice cream.

For best results, chill the cookies just before dinner when a special welcome-home gesture, you might mix the dough in the morning and bake the cookies just before dinner when the whole family can enjoy the spicy fragrance from the oven. Your family may never reach the end of the rainbow, but they'll enjoy the old-fashioned goodness of these Golden Spice Cookies right at home.

GOLDEN SPICE COOKIES

1 cup sifted flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon nutmeg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cloves
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon soda
 1 cup seedless raisins
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped pecans
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
 2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 2 cups uncooked rolled oats, quick or regular $\frac{1}{2}$ cup catsup

Sift together flour, baking powder, spices, soda, and salt. Stir in oats, raisins, and pecans. Cream butter or margarine; add brown sugar and eggs and cream until light and fluffy. Add catsup; mix well. Blend in dry ingredients. Chill. Drop tablespoonsful of dough 2 inches apart onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 12 minutes. Yield: 3½ dozen cookies.

Gouda Cup Spread Can Be Attractive

An attractive way to serve a cheese spread.
 Gouda Cup Spread Crackers
 Tamale Pickups Olives
 Chocolate Cupcakes Beverage

GOUDA CUP SPREAD

1 baby Gouda cheese (10 ounces)
 2 tablespoons dry vermouth
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Allow the cheese to stand at room temperature until quite soft. Use a $\frac{2\frac{1}{2}$ -inch scalloped cookie cutter with scallops at least $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch wide; press the cutter into the center of the cheese as deeply as possible; remove cutter. Remove wax only over cutout and any marking on cheese. With a small sharp knife, carefully remove the top cut section; with a teaspoon, scoop out remaining cheese leaving a thin covering over the inner surface. On a dinner plate or small platter, with a fork, mash the cheese fine; thoroughly mix in the vermouth and Worcestershire. Pack back into the shell as much of the cheese mixture as possible, leveling top to make even with the scalloped top of the shell. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate; bring to room temperature before serving. Refrigerate the remaining cheese mixture separately and use as a refill.

Pizza pie can be deceivingly healthful. Spread a good layer of ground beef on your oiled pizza pan and top it with pizza sauce, mozzarella, herbs, mushrooms or the works. Bake in a hot oven until the cheese is invitingly golden.

2900 ALEMANY BLVD. (WP-2)

ALL-AMERICAN "KICKS OFF" national barbecue season: Col. Ed Garbisch, All-American center at West Point for three years in a row, 1922-24, and now a prominent industrialist, has been named chairman of National Barbecue Month.

Barbecuing Booms As Age Level Drops

"Young marrieds are the backbone of the $4-billion outdoor living market."

So says Colonel Edgar W. Garbisch, chairman of the Board of Grocery Products Company of West Chester, Pa., while announcing the fifth National Barbecue Month, June 1-30.

"For the first time since the early days of America," said the colonel, who is chairman of National Barbecue Month, "the median age of this country's 197 million population has dipped under 30—29.7 to be exact. It is continuing to drop rapidly, and is expected to be under 20 in another decade. One in four college students is married. These young marrieds are the ones who buy many of the 5 million grills sold each year, who make up the bulk of the 20 million or more campers and the 40 million boaters, who spend much of the nation's $70 billion food bill."

Why is outdoor cooking so popular among the young? The colonel cited several factors: most of the young marrieds have young families, and prefer a backyard cookout with the kids and neighbors to going-out forms of entertainment—mostly because of the scarcity and expense of baby sitters. They are the experimenters—their tastes in food are sophisticated, and they like to explore new recipes.

buy many grills with their $13 billion spending power, they do often buy their own foods for beach cookouts, and influence the selection of the family grill. Indeed, with barbecuing becoming such a popular form of teenage entertaining, many families have achieved two-grill status: one portable, to go along to the beach; the other larger and heavier to stay home.

The nation's food industry is well aware of the profitable effects of the cookout craze. It has taken the slump out of summer, as consumers buy steaks and hamburgers, chicken, lamb chops, even pork for outdoor grilling. No longer is summer just a cold-cuts operation—the family can enjoy healthful, nourishing meals without heating up the kitchen, so long as Dad mans the grill.

National Barbecue Month '66 is expected to be bigger than ever, thanks to the swelling tide of consumer spending and the rapidly dropping median age. It will benefit all segments of the industry—foods, equipment, charcoal condiments—everything the average family needs to stage a cookout.

Finally, the colonel reminded, "one of the strongest appeals of National Barbecue Month is that it celebrates the cooking artistry of the American male, and the mealtime relaxation of the American wife."

"The young marrieds are the pacesetters," the colonel remarked.

Though it's impossible to figure how much of the $4 billion outdoor living bill is spent by the under-30 group, the total figures are impressive: $580 million is spent annually on outdoor furniture and barbecue equipment.

$3 billion is spent on merchandise to pretty up the backyard—tools, mowers, seeds and plants, fertilizers, etc. 7,500,000 electric slicing knives were sold in the country in 1965, and it's a safe bet that many of the cordless models saw outdoor duty.

Another factor encouraging the expansion of the market for grills and related foods and accessories is the rise in discretionary income. It is up about $5 billion—from $170 billion in '65 to a likely $175 billion in '66. That's a lot of discretionary income—and much of it is concentrated in the hands of the younger elements of the population. Though teen-agers may not

Heartiness Added To Frankfurters

Cheese adds heartiness in this way of preparing frankfurters.

- Cheddar Franks
- Mashed Potatoes
- Spinach
- Salad Bowl
- Frosted Cake
- Beverage
- CHEDDAR FRANKS
- ¼ pound cheddar cheese, grated
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 4 frankfurters

Mix together the cheese, mayonnaise and catsup. Split frankfurters lengthwise but not all the way through; spread frankfurters on foil-lined broiler pan with cut sides down. Broil until hot through. Turn cut sides up; spoon cheese mixture over cut sides—it will weigh them down. Broil fairly slowly, by adjusting pan or heat, until cheese melts. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Pacifica Bus Service is Subject of Debate

By DENIS WADE

"What is it worth to the city of Pacifica to have a good transportation system?"

The question is Councilwoman Grace McCarthy's. She and her fellow councilmen spent two hours last night trying to answer it. With the aid of the city's transportation committee. They were not much closer to an answer at the end of the session than they were when they began—but they did agree on one point.

All were in accord that Pacifica needs a public transportation system.

The meeting was called specifically to consider a request by John Cushing, owner of the El Mar Transit Service, for financial support amounting to $400 a month.

Cushing presently operates two "little red busses" on a full-time basis in the Linda Mar area, and part-time in the northern part of Pacifica.

Contract

He also has a contract with the Laguna Salada Union School District, he said, which accounts for about half his income.

But when the school year ends June 17 he will be forced to cut his routes and serve only Linda Mar, unless he receives financial aid, Cushing told the council.

He has maintained that the full service would become self-supporting within a year.

City Manager Karl Baldwin explained a tentative agreement reached with merchants of the Eureka Square, Linda Mar and Pacific Manor shopping centers under which each group would purchase advertising signs on Cushing's buses, for a total of

The remaining $200, Cushing hopes, will be provided by the city.

Baldwin read an opinion of the city attorney, citing state laws which prohibit municipalities from giving direct subsidies to private businesses.

According to the opinion, the city could purchase the operation—which councilmen agreed Pacifica cannot afford—or it could contribute to the firm by buying advertising signs on buses and by contracting for specific services, like transporting children to recreation centers, or senior citizens to their meeting places.

After much discussion of those possibilities, Mayor Harold Minshew directed Baldwin to prepare a complete report for the council's next meeting June 1.

"We will explore every conceivable arrangement," Baldwin said, "along with possibilities and costs of exterior bus signs, contractual agreements, and potential weekend uses of the buses."

To help with the study, Cushing was asked to furnish more complete financial records, including cost-per-mile figures. He and his wife said they could do so within a few days.

Suggestion Councilman James Fox suggested that Cushing take on the added expense of "a good, competent accountant" so that both the owner and the city could tell exactly what his financial condition is.

"I feel that the service is not going to be any more solvent year from now than it is today," Fox declared—but he nevertheless added that he favors helping Cushing if possible.

"If we can find the $1,200," he said, "we ought to take the gamble."

A financial statement provided by Cushing indicates that Fox's fears may be unfounded.

Since he began operations in Linda Mar in August, 1964, Cushing's figures show that his average monthly fares have increased from $283 in 1964, to $368 in 1965, to $519 so far this year.

That includes a period from mid-December, 1965, to the end of February this year, when he did provide full-time service to northern Pacifica.

The cutback to part-time service in the morning only was necessitated by the fact that he had to take a school contract to make ends meet, Cushing said, which in turn meant removing one bus from general passenger service to take children home every afternoon.

With added money, he said, he could reinstate the deleted routes.

As people get used to the bus service, he added, more and more of them will utilize it.

In addition, his wife, said, she has been assured by a spokesman for the school district that a new and possibly expanded contract will be forthcoming in September.

Attend Meet About 40 Pacificans attended the meeting, which Mayor Minshew was careful to explain was a study session, and not a public hearing.

The audience clearly supported their little red bus. Several of them asked the council to find a way to help Cushing maintain his foothold in the northern section of the city.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.

If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.

A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.

Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech and the ability to chew food and to help prevent other dental diseases.

Regular dental treatment will help you to have teeth that are both healthy and attractive.

Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

El Camino Pupil Awards

At the state convention of Future Business Leaders of America, which was held recently in Berkeley, students from El Camino High School in South San Francisco won five awards. Pamela Bovero won first place in all-state spelling and third place in shorthand. Linda Finley won second place in shorthand, and Anita Leischner won third place in bookkeeping.

El Camino was well represented among the 500 delegates who were in attendance at the convention, and was awarded second place for membership from the Northern section.

Outing For Times Boys

Thirteen rip-roaring rides... loads of candy, soda, and popcorn... a fuu-filled bus ride... all these were the ingredients of a never-to-be-forgotten day-long outing at Santa Cruz for a record 195 San Mateo Times newspaperboys on May 15.

The boys who participated had earned their big opportunity by obtaining new subscribers.

The morning started as the boys were picked up by their chartered buses along El Camino Real, spread from Daly City to Redwood City, and at The Times' San Mateo plant.

Immediate advantage was taken of the 13 free ride tickets. The adult supervisors kept a wary eye on the proceedings. Although lunch money was furnished to each boy, most had taken the precaution to bring lunch from home and therefore spent their cash on such exotic items as soda, candy and popcorn.

Two Injured In San Bruno

Two persons were injured in a two-car accident on Sharp Park Road, east of Pacific Heights Boulevard, in San Bruno shortly before 8 a.m. Monday.

Virginia Cevalco, 56, of 156 Santa Inez Avenue, San Bruno, driver of one of the cars, suffered facial cuts and chest injuries. She was given emergency treatment at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and transferred to Kaiser in San Francisco.

The driver of the other auto was identified as Eric B. Johnson, 42, of 17 Malaver Court, Pacifica. He suffered a face cut and told police he would see his own physician.

Westview Unit Plans Meeting

The Westview Community Development Group will hold a meeting at 8 tonight in the multi-purpose room of the Westview School.

Purpose of the meeting is to establish a permanent Westview unit which can seek improvements for the Westview area.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE INVITING SEALED BIDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE JEFFERSON UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE County of San Mateo, California will receive sealed bids up to and including 3:00 P.M. on the 3rd day of JUNE 1966 at the office of the Superintendent, 378 South Mayfair Avenue, Room 214, Daly City, California, at which time said bids will be opened and read for the supplying of:

BID NO. 153 FURNISHING & INSTALLING GAS FIRING SAFETY CONTROLS ON BOILERS.

In accordance with instruction, conditions and specifications and form of Agreement now on file in the office of the said Superintendent of said district.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or bond equal to 10% of the bid. Said check is to be made payable to the JEFFERSON UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT and shall guarantee that should his bid be accepted, the bidder will enter into a contract within 10 days from the date of mailing of notification that the contract is ready for execution. Said check or bond shall be deemed liquidated damages and surrendered to said Board if the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into a contract within said period.

The Board of Trustees of the JEFFERSON UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT reserves the right to reject any and all bids and waive any irregularity therein, and reserves the right to award the said contract or reject all bids at any time within 30 days after the opening of bids.

No bidder may withdraw any bid submitted by him for the said period of 30 days after the said date of opening of bids.

Dated: MAY 11, 1966.

JEFFERSON UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT.
By LYAL INGERSOLL,
Clerk of the Board of Trustees.

SUN, MOON AND TIDE

Sun Rises: 05:54 Sun Sets: 20:20 Moon Rises: 09:41 Moon Sets: 00:10

Sun Rises: 05:53 Sun Sets: 20:21 Moon Rises: 10:52 Moon Sets: 00:58

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, number of hours of daylight, and the time of high and low tide.

NOTE: In the above tabulation, the times of high and low tide are given in the eastern standard time zone, and the successive times as they occur on some days but not on others.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California. Furnished by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, U.S. Navy Hydrographic Office.

Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the mean low water level.

The numbers are always preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).

Villa Hotel Ideal Stop-Over Point for Tourists

WHETHER YOU'RE stopping over on a flight from Tokyo to New York, or driving from Carmel to San Francisco, you will enjoy one of the favorite Peninsula hotels of those indispensable members of the jet set, pilots and stewardesses. THE VILLA HOTEL, with its new summer-time policy, charmingly entertaining with hors d'oeuvres, dancing music beside the Rainbow Pool, is just that. The first entertainment of the evening is MISS JAMIE, who, with guitar and voice, provides many moods from quieting to exciting from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Then dancing to the music of GEORGE CERRUTTI and his Trio from 9 p.m. in the Villa Lounge... EN-NIO'S, a new San Francisco restaurant serving specialties of Rome, has a distinguished visitor—MADAME LA MARCHESA DE ANGELIS of Rome, Italy. Her son, the MARQUIS ENNIO CLAUDIO ROMANO DE ANGELIS, feted his mother at a welcoming party at his elegant restaurant. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. VICTOR D'ORAZI, SYD GOLDMAN, RAY KINZEL, JOHN GILBERT and LEO MARTILLA.

Miss Jamie

TALENTED YOUNG PHILL THOMAS, a seasoned veteran in just about every phase of show business, broke into the Las Vegas limelight in a big way when Hotel Thunderbird debuted the summer edition of spectacular "C'est la Femme" in the Continental Theater. This is his first attempt at producing and directing a Las Vegas-type show in his 17 years in the entertainment world. The cast includes over 20 of the Las Vegas' most attractive and talented young dancers and showgirls, billed by the hotel as "The Most French American Girls in the World." Showtimes are 8:15 for the dinner show, and midnight... "Standing Room Only" appears to be the general rule, these days, at Bill Gilbert's Tiger Club at the Airport's Hilton Inn ever since George n' Teddy and the Condors opened here a week ago. This group of talent-plus has years of successful night club appearances and hit records on their pedigree. Managed by Steve Tsipis, Tiger A-Go-Go club is gaining world acclaim for its shapely Tiger Kittens, whose classic symmetry is enhanced by their good looks and dancing abilities.

Phill Thomas

RALPH LE PINSKI, who recently took over as general manager of the new Stickney's dining spot in San Mateo, is no newcomer to the Stickney chain. He formerly was manager of Stickney's in the Town and Country Shopping Center in Palo Alto. Heralded as one of the most modern and beautifully furnished restaurants in the Bay Area, it is also the largest of the Stickney chain, employing over 100 persons... Patrons of the Leaning Tower in South San Francisco are so "baseball happy" that Owners Joe and Lou Ercoli are thinking of wearing Giants baseball shirts and caps during their "plank duties" to help the cause... There have been many restaurants claiming their chef is of pizza royalty—such as "The King," "Crown Prince," and etc. But in your Bright Lighter's book of pizza fame, Enrico Romano of Pacifica can do more with pizza dough than anyone I know... One of the most thriving restaurants on the Peninsula is Dan Biagi and Rene Canabou's swank Cote d'Azur Continental restaurant in Atherton. Many groups hold their banquets and conventions in the restaurant's unique "Wine Cellar Room."

R. LePinski

ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO CELEBRATE the Memorial Day weekend, this year is to spend it at the fabulous Pine Summit, one of California's largest resort night clubs located at famous Hoberg's in Lake County. Three nights of the biggest-party-ever will be in store for the thousands of excited fun-seekers, both young and old, who plan on attending the gala festivities. It will begin with an hour of complimentary champagne on Friday, May 27, starting at 9 p.m. Completely remodeled and redecorated, the Pine Summit will feature continuous all-star entertainment on their open-air dance floor. The Pine Summit George Hoberg was designed to be enjoyed by the whole family. In addition to the Main cocktail lounge upstairs, for the adults, a "Leni" bar on the lower level serves soft drinks only for the younger set... George Burger, co-owner of the beautiful Franciscan restaurant on San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf, and his son were last-week diners at Vince Licata's popular Seafood and Italian restaurant. Their spaghetti and meat balls raves still fill the air.

George Hoberg

AL MALATESTA, CHARLEY MOROSIN AND ED ZAGO have promoted their Marina Chuck Wagon into one of San Francisco's most popular restaurants, with a reputation throughout the Bay Area for superb prime ribs of beef, pan fried chicken and nightly special entrees. Now, the energetic partners will make a bid for the steak house trade when they add broiled steaks to the menu on Monday, May 23. A thick filet mignon, cut from choice Eastern beef and broiled to order, will be on the regular one-price dinner menu. They will also offer, at slightly higher price, a full-pound Porterhouse steak, guaranteed to satisfy even the heartiest appetites... Where else could you get free popcorn, ping-pong, Batman every Wednesday and Thursday, Bat sweatshirts, and music by the Soul Mates, than at Bob Pemberton and Jim Scott's Bat Cave on Third Avenue in San Mateo? By the way, they serve drinks, too.

Al Malatesta

Gary Long, "88er" at Fred and Jerry Rapp's swank Holiday Inn in South San Francisco, is hailed by many sports writers as one of the better celebrity golfers in the area. Gary insists that in another few years he'll give up show biz and settle down to a career as a pro-golfer-math-instructor.

Former Redwood City restaurateur Scotty Campbell "saw red," last night, when visiting his former restaurant on his first Peninsula visit since moving to the Southland. Scotty Campbell's restaurant is now wall-to-wall with a new, plush, red carpet.

Ed Sullivan Sparks Hyatt House Hotel To Successful Operation

Seems like only yesterday that the plush Hyatt House in Burlingame celebrated its grand opening. And, with the passing years, the Hyatt House has prospered well—in all fields. Managers arrived and departed, until energetic Ed Sullivan, the present Hyatt House Hotel general manager, came on the scene. All during his long stay at the helm of operations here, Mr. Sullivan has made this popular Burlingame site one of the Peninsula's most-desired "homes-away-from-home" for countless visitors to the Bay Area.

Excellent food, beverage, entertainment and luxury room accommodations all play important roles in the success of this well-established hotel. An ideal setting for breakfast, luncheon, dinner, banquets, and special parties, the Hyatt House is a meeting place for major out-of-town company executives when visiting their branch offices.

During the evening, dinner-dancing is one of the main features in the magnificent Scheherazade Room, featuring Bob Wellman's Orchestra. A cozy piano bar is also at your relaxing command.

The Hyatt House Hotel is just minutes away from the airport and ideally located for Peninsula and San Francisco transportation.

Don Kelly has made a host of friends since his organbar advent at Nick's in Pacifica. The Del Carlo Combo, featuring Mary Ann Hay on vocals, entertain and play for weekend dancing.

The Turtle, another section of Nick's restaurant and cocktail empire located just across the street, is open Wednesday through Sunday: Friday and Saturday night dancing.

Restaurants displaying this insignia are members of the San Mateo County Restaurant and Tavern Owners Association. They strive for highest standards of service to the public.

Harness And Quarter Horse Meet Tomorrow

Race fans are in for a merry treat tomorrow, May 26, when the 19-day Harness and Quarter Horse Race Meet gets off to a fast "gait" at Bay Meadows.

Make up a party and enjoy a big day at the races. Better still, plan on having a delicious brunch, which can be arranged by phoning Fireside 5-1661. Groups large and small are invited to participate in an afternoon of fun.

Tuesday through Saturday are the racing days, with the exception that racing will be held on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30, and there will be no racing Tuesday, May 31, according to Dr. William Ward, general manager for the California Harness and Quarter Horse Race Meet.

26 trainees of Avis Car Rental dined two weeks in a row at Lew Lehr's, beautifying the dining room no end—gorgeous gals each!

SPECIAL OCCASIONS

can be the link between you and a festive evening at Hyatt House Burlingame. For birthdays, weddings, anniversaries, any special celebration—this is the setting for happy memories. Gourmet food and fine entertainment are part of the luxury you enjoy at every Hyatt House hotel. Ideal for banquets and meetings, too.

Special Attraction: Bob Wellman and his Orchestra in the magnificent Scheherazade Room.

Maine Lobsters Arrive Daily Villa Chartier

Folks have requested (in everyday conversation and via Uncle Sam's mail) the name of a local restaurant serving an outstanding Maine Lobster dinner—and they want the real thing! Each time I point out that Emerson Murfee's Villa Chartier is so particular about their Maine Lobsters that General Manager N. Y. Palmer even meets the plane at the airport when the daily shipment of Maine Lobsters is flown in direct from the shores of Maine.
